Three-Year $2 Million GC Teacher Pay Raises

Cost-of-Living Clause
After 1st Year, Other
Agreements Are Added

Agreement has been reached on a three-year pact providing substantial pay raises for teachers in the Granite City school district, it was announced last night. Included are cost-of-living allowances in the last two years.

Added cost of new salary schedules over the three years will be in excess of $2 million, including basic increases of $1,600,000, Supt. Russell D. Johnson told the Press-Record. Salary increments on the schedules total over a half-million dollars for the three-year period, and staff expansion will add at least another half-million in costs.

These figures do not include any cost-of-living raises, which will hinge on the U. S. Department of Labor consumer price index, or the cost to the district of various articles in the working agreement, such as medical hospital insurance.

Virtually all of a 40-cent educational fund tax rate increase authorized by voters in May 1964 will be utilized, Supt. Johnson said.

Meet Saturday, Sunday
Lacking a quorum last night, the board postponed its meeting until 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Business Saturday will include discussion of wording in several items of the working agreement, which is being expanded from 20 to 40 articles.

The negotiating committee hopes to confer on the final wording Sunday with representatives of the American Federation of Teachers Local 743, which is to meet next Wednesday.

About 150 hours, with two four-hour sessions weekly, were devoted to the negotiations since December by Supt. Johnson, Administrative Assistant Bob J. Davis, Board President Thomas Worthen, Board Treasurer Ronald Dillard and Board Member George Moore and John J. replaced Daniel Linder, an initial appointee. The new negotiator is Superintendent Harry Lane.

Salary Policy Committee Chairman Richard Huff.

Terms of Pay Agreement
Based on a term of nine and a quarter months, present figures of bachelor-degree teachers range from $72 monthly in the first year to $832 monthly in the twelfth year. These figures in the next three years will be $934-$986, $986-$1027 and $1027-$1068, respectively.

Teachers with master's degrees, now paid $654-$895, will get $675-$978 next year, $697-$1108 in the second year and $718-$1143 in the third year.

Those with master degrees and 190 credit hours of education receive $681-$929 at present and are

Ice Rink Low Bid $167,000 Too High

Architects Attempting To Pare Costs to Save Park Recreation Plans

Development of the proposed ice rink and recreation center planned by the Granite City park district received a preliminary setback when constructing bids opened at a meeting Monday night were above the estimate.

The low bid containing all desired features was more than $167,000 over the original construction estimate of $400,000 made by the architectural firm of Gabriel and Duergoff last year.

It was submitted by Henry Ross of Granite City, who quoted the low bid at $567,000, which rose to $567,000 with inclusion of alternate features.

At another meeting at 5 p.m. yesterday, the architects discussed various cuts and omissions which would reduce construction costs to $457,000, but the architects agreed that it was still much more than the maximum of $420,000 to $425,000 available in a $475,000 bond issue approved in a referendum last winter.

Other Necessities
From $50,000 to $55,000 of the total amount will be needed for architectural and legal fees and for ice skating and equipment.

The architect and Duergoff said the four low bidders agreed to compete on new quotations on revised specifications, but if major changes were made, a new call for bids would be required.

The other low bidders and their base bids were G. H. Sternberg of Granite City, $537,335; United American of St. Louis, $537,800; and Nelson Construction Co. of St. Louis, $537,137. Other firms submitting bids were H. H. Hall Construction of East St. Louis, $611,248; L. Wolf Co. of Granite City, $537,780; S. Wilson of Granite City, $566,500; and M. H. Wolf & Co. of Granite City, $559,000.

Delay in Completion
The Hall bid was not considered as the firm designated 330 days for completion. The park will be ready to open in the ice rink in operation at Wil-

$41-$61 Pay Hikes Ok'd for Madison School Teachers

Salaries of teachers in the Madison school district were increased $41 and $61 per month for the 1966-67 school year in an agreement reached by the board of education and the Madison Federation of Teachers at a special board meeting Monday night.

About half of the teachers, those in the 13th year or more on the salary schedule, will receive the higher increase, while those under 13 years will receive the lower pay hike.

Total cost of the pay raise will be about $2,000, which Supt. Vernon Brown said will be recovered in additional state aid during the year. The new contract also includes provisions for sabbatical leave.

Based on a nine-month year, teachers with a bachelor's degree will receive $608 per month the first year and will advance to $810 per month in the 13th year; those with a master's degree, $867 to $994 per month; and those with a master's degree plus 30 graduate semester hours, $721 to $1022 per month.

Four teachers without a degree on the salary schedule, $521 to $1022 per month. Increase was provided for one at the top of the non-graduate scale, which is $888 per month, while the others received hikes ranging from $23 to $47 a month, with salaries starting at $239 per month.

Annual salary of the superintendent was set at $16,000, a $1,000 increase, while salaries of the five school principals were increased by $649 for the school year, with the total amounts determined by the salary schedule.

Additional pay of $450 a year was provided for the head teacher at Madison high school and for coordinators, counselors and vocational and home economics teachers for a 10-month year.

Additional stipends for athletic coaches and assistants are: football, head coach, $800 (90%); assistant coach, $450; basketball, head coach, $550; assistant coach, $400; tennis, $350; track and cross country, head coach, $600, assistant, $400; cross country, head coach, $550, assistant, $400; and tennis, head coach, $550, assistant, $400, and basketball teacher, $250.

Sabbatical Leaves
Under the agreement, one sabbatical leave will be available for certificated employees during each school year and will be granted in accordance with provisions of the school code and the rules of the board.

U. S. Authorizes Postal Station For Nameoki Area

Special from Washington

Construction of a new post office building to serve the Nameoki area was approved Wednesday by the Postmaster General's office, according to the office of Cong. Melvin Price.

Price said no projected figures as to cost of the new building are available, but specifications call for a structure with 600 square feet of interior floor space and a mail platform of 40 square feet. A parking lot of 2000 square feet also will be required.

A representative of the postal department will inspect possible sites in the area. Advertisements for bids will then be authorized. Following usual procedure, the building will be constructed by private interests from whom the postal department will lease the facilities.

The new post office is planned to replace the former Nameoki post office, which was razed to make way for the Nameoki road improvement. It was located at 3000 Nameoki road. Nameoki area postal service is now being handled from a temporary station located in residence structure at 3912 Nameoki road.

2 St. Louis Men Caught in $231 Madison Theft

Two St. Louis men whom police said apparently were unaware they had been under surveillance for ten minutes before they allegedly robbed the Sterling TV store in Madison were held in the Madison city jail today in lieu of $10,000 property bonds.

Both are charged with theft over $150 which carries a statutory penalty of one to ten years imprisonment.

The two men, Jimmy Taylor, 29, and Clarence A. Jones, 36, were captured shortly after 3 p.m. Tuesday by Venice and Madison police as they fled from the TV store at 40 Madison avenue where Ray Edwards, owner of the store, had tried unsuccessfully to hold them at gunpoint.

Police reported Taylor ran through a rear door of the store carrying $231 which he had taken from the cash register, while Jones fled through the front entrance carrying a portable radio worth $125.

Taylor and Jones virtually ran into the arms of waiting police officers as they fled through the front and rear doorways, although Taylor made an unsuccessful attempt to flee down an alley toward Fifth street.

He ran into a parking lot, stooped down behind a parked car, then reappeared and surrendered to officers who had warned him not to run.

Police later found the $231 under the car. Jones, meanwhile, had been apprehended by Venice police near the front entrance. Police said Jones later admitted stealing the $125 radio.

Quick apprehension of the two men resulted from a report received a short time earlier of an attempt being made to short-change a woman clerk in the Venice Liquor Store in the 100 block of Broadway in Venice.

The clerk said the men made a purchase and then attempted to confuse her by changing currency as she tried to make change.

As they left the liquor store, the clerk phoned Venice police with a description of their car. Officers spotted the car as it headed toward Madison and followed it.

When the car stopped near the TV shop and the two men entered the store, Venice officers radioed Madison police, who arrived at Fifth street and Madison avenue as Taylor ran out of the back door of the store. They intercepted Taylor.

Complaints against the two men were referred immediately to the state's attorney's office at Independence in an attempt to include consideration of the case by the Madison county grand jury now in session. Taylor and Jones were taken before Andrew S. Matosian in Madison magistrate's court yesterday morning, where bond was set at $500 cash, $5000 surety or $10,000 in property.

The TV shop proprietor told police he was in the basement of his store when he heard the bell on the cash register.

He entered the front store room to find Taylor taking the money from the cash register. He said he picked up a pistol which he kept nearby and told Taylor to stand still as he attempted to call police. Taylor, however, turned and fled through the back door as Jones went out the front. Edwards later identified the two men in a five-man lineup at Madison police headquarters.

Junk Car Removal In GC Hits 350

A move started last December and carried on through the community's clean up campaign is being continued in Granite City with the removal of junker autos from streets and private property.

The 350th car to be hauled away was noted Tuesday morning at a gathering of city officers on Charles street off East 23rd street.

Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald Parmlay commented that the city campaign has been moving so rapidly since the ordinance was adopted last December that a planned ceremony to mark removal of the 300th junker was overlooked and had to be postponed to the 350th.

Glik's to Open Eighth Store in Belleville

Joseph Glik, president of Glik's Department Stores, today announced signing a lease for the firm's eighth store in Madison and St. Clair counties. The latest retail outlet will be erected in an addition at Bellevue Park Plaza shopping center, Belleville.

Depending on progress of construction to start next month, Glik explained the new store is tentatively scheduled to open late this year or in March 1967. Also in the formative stages, the company official said, are plans to add two additional stores within the next few years, both earmarked for St. Clair county. He added that warehousing and marketing operations are to be retained at the Madison store.

MORE ABOUT GC Council

East side of the highway only it could not be extended to West 20th because of the Route 151 intersection there; a divider, strip scheduled to be built to protect the intersection.

The Division of Highways, in addition to paying for the construction, will finance acquisition of necessary property to install the roadway. A highway engineer indicated earlier that the route was a 40-foot-wide median strip along the Route 151 plan at this point, but it is only 20 feet wide; the delegation was told Monday.

The city government is to provide property appraisals, handle negotiations and provide necessary legal services for the right-of-way, just as it did in acquisition of property for the widening of N. Main street. The city will handle the actual condemnation, if necessary.

Granite City also is to maintain the frontage road after it has been installed by the state.

Harding Frontage Road
Kronst also pledged the state to install a frontage road on the east side of the new highway from the alley north of Harding to the alley south of Harding.

It will be carried out on the same basis as the Cayuga-West 20th section, except that the state already owns this right-of-way.

A property owner immediately adjacent to the right-of-way and south of Harding at one time did not want a frontage road. The state will only install the road at that portion of the ground if he wishes it to be installed.

Fence Financing
Rant was described as "quite hard" Monday for contribution of fencing by the state, but Kronst and Design Engineer Berger were emphatic in the position that the state could not install fencing.

The state, however, will allow the city to install the fence on the state right-of-way, subject to usual restrictions applicable to fencing.

Urges Quick Action
Kronst urged that the city council pass the agreement in its present resolution form. He gave his word and a "gentleman's agreement" to formalize the questions within the next two to three months.

His frontage road concession met the major stipulation issued by an aldermanic group in an informal discussion May 22 with Tri-City Trades & Labor Council, Port District and Chamber of Commerce representatives. The aldermen asked at that time the Rant and Mathias contact state highway engineers.

The fence, now regarded as an avoidably a local matter, would protect pedestrians in the River Road vicinity from Kugelvelt avenue to Harding Street, from Cayuga street to West 20th street, and from St. Louis avenue to Niedringhaus avenue.

Postponement Challenged
The six aldermen who met Monday night—three leaving the Maxwell dinner early—terminated action of Mayor Parmlay in postponing a regular council session as irregular and adjourned the session to 8 o'clock this evening with Clerk Pendleton instructed to send out notices.

At the Tuesday session, Mayor Parmlay and four aldermen adjourned that meeting to the next regular meeting date—June 6. Mayor Parmlay noted that his secretary had telephoned each alderman for an opinion on the postponement of the Monday night meeting until Tuesday.

He pointed out that 11 agreed to the change, several could not be reached or would make no commitment and two said they would be working. Robertson said at Monday's meeting that he knew of five aldermen who could not be present on Tuesday.

Basarich, Boyd, Parmlay, Johnson and Bartosiek.

Approved Change
The mayor said Tuesday he had approval of the meeting change from Dallas, Whitner, Postle, Rutledge, Green, Basarich, Fry, Johnson, Thompson, Moerkens and Sternberg. Boyd was out-of-town. Johnson and the Press-Record yesterday he went out of town Tuesday on a pre-arranged trip to get his daughter after college. Bartosiek and Parmlay sent notification they would be working Tuesday evening.

The mayor had little to say about Tuesday's Tuesday's brief meeting. He said he had heard several of the absent aldermen were meeting at a restaurant.

Taking note of the activities of officers of the Port Authority and Chamber of Commerce on Monday in meeting with the state to reach an agreement satisfactory to aldermen who last week had voted to table a contract with the state on construction of the roadway, the mayor said yesterday in a prepared statement.

Mayor's Statement
"Action on the Highway 151 project is moving along more rapidly; however, a slight delay was experienced by a change in date for the regular council meeting to allow all aldermen possible to attend the Dal Maxwell dinner also scheduled on the same date."

"An all-out drive is on by your mayor, members of the council, the Port Authority, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, various labor elements and numerous citizens interested in the future of our city."

The great concern shown by the Chamber, the Port Authority, and the labor elements for our citizens throughout the area, and especially for the good people of West Granite, is praiseworthy indeed. I wish to commend the West Granite citizens for their personal help to me in this matter for they are directly affected.

Fraises Kronst
"I also wish to express my great appreciation to Engineer Kronst for his gentlemanly agreement to the Port Authority and the Chamber of Commerce that he would provide a frontage road on the east side of Route 151 for the benefit of the good people of West Granite. This action can and must be credited to the fine people of the Port Authority and the Chamber of Commerce and I am once again indebted to them for their thoughtfulness on behalf of our West Granite citizens."

"While I am extremely grateful for all that has already been accomplished, there are still a few issues to be solved. I have been pushing for this project for many long years and feel certain that our city's welfare first and foremost must be bigger than any one or few individuals. This is for our people and must come first."

"I promise my continued support and all-out effort for this great asset to our community and ask for your complete support by urging your representatives to support it also. Our dream is nearly realized and concern for our city's welfare first and foremost must make it a reality. Thank you again for all your support. Keep pressing with me in hopes that this project is satisfactorily finalized in the very near future."

Medium-Size Steel Firms Showing Growth; Still Have 'Right to Fail'—A Stimulant

Although they do not have many of the advantages of larger companies, medium-sized steel companies have numerous factors working in their favor and are showing real vitality and the ability to grow, and they also have the right to fail, William M. Akin, chairman of the board of Laclede Steel Co., said in New York today.

Akin told the 74th General Meeting of American Iron and Steel Institute that medium-sized companies like Laclede are "the durable spinners" of the industry who, in effect, have escaped matrimony (through combinations resulting in large enterprises) or have avoided being "graciously waited into lasting oblivion."

"Medium-Size" Advantages

Among the advantages held by the medium-size producer, Akin listed:

The facilities are usually all in one place. Therefore, decisions can be made quickly with "everyone in on the act."

Top management of the organization has an intimate, detailed knowledge of what is going on at all times. If data are incorrect, "we find it out very quickly. When things do go wrong, immediate steps can be taken."

Not having their own raw materials facilities, the medium-size company can occasionally take advantage of fluctuating markets in purchased materials, although such fluctuations may also work to their disadvantage.

They may quickly stop making a product that is bringing in a poor return or is actually losing money.

The management of a medium-size company has to be conservative, for any errors would make financial embarrassment inevitable.

He pointed out that "the medium-size companies have the right to fail."

Last of Great Freedoms

"Perhaps that is the last of our great freedoms; certainly it is a very powerful stimulant. . . . Their management knows that no one will come to their rescue. The men in the mills know, if the company can't make it, their jobs go down the drain."

Akin said that the communities depending on the medium-size company's payroll cooperate and help the company. The suppliers of raw materials are also conscious of the continuous purchasing by a medium-size mill. The customers, likewise, understand the problems of the company and give real help.

If the right to fail didn't exist, a paternal government would prop up an operation irrespective of any merit or justification for its continued existence, Akin declared. In a comparatively few years, the stimulation and challenge would be gone and the right to try again would disappear along with the right to fail.

"As for the future of the medium-size mills, they have shown and will show ability to continue and to grow," Akin concluded.

Whitworth Named President, Fighting Warrior Boosters

Lloyd Whitworth, a local real estate agent, was installed as president of the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors at a dinner at Tuesday's meeting, club members agreed to sponsor a fish fry booth at the Granite City Jaycees homecoming celebration on June 17, 18 and 19 at Nameoki Village shopping center and to sell stadium seat cushions as a method of aiding club finances.

Appreciation was expressed by Dawes to Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. of Alton, which co-sponsored with the Booster group a refreshment period for coaches and officials following the recent inter-city junior high school track meet. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. June 6, at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Alton SIU-SW Center Needed Permanently

The Alton center of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus will always be maintained for educational uses, Dr. Delyte W. Morris, university president, assured this week though he said all instruction will be moved to the new main campus in five to 10 years.

He emphasized that the Alton facilities will be needed as the current projected enrollment of 18,000 to 20,000 students at the main campus probably will have to be revised to 25,000 to 30,000, and all available facilities will be needed.

School Lunch Refunds To Be Cut April, May

Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, county superintendent of schools, said yesterday his office received word from the school lunch division of the office of the superintendent of public instruction that Congress did not appropriate adequate funds to pay the full rate of .05 cents for each Type 'A' lunch for the entire school year.

"The Illinois appropriation of $4,208,669 for the 1965-66 fiscal year has now been depleted to the extent that it will be necessary to pay the March claims for reimbursement in the school lunch program at a rate of .04289 cents per type 'A' lunch. This rate does not apply to special assistance and demonstration programs. These claims will be paid through May," Trimpe said.

"Although school lunch claims will not be paid for April and May, it will be necessary to file the balance of this school year's claims as usual. This information is essential for required monthly federal reports.

"It appears now that all special milk claims will be paid at the assigned rate, less 10%, for the balance of this school year, Trimpe added.

Denies Delay Motion In Murder Trial of 4

Circuit Judge Creed Douglas denied at Springfield yesterday a motion by defense attorneys to delay the trial of four Menard prison convicts, including John W. Stamps, 26, of Granite City, who are charged with murdering three prison guards.

Following the ruling, Stamps surprised the courtroom by announcing that he objected strongly to being represented by Richard Shakiwicz, Alton attorney. Stamps told the court he did not want Shakiwicz to "represent me in any manner whatsoever." Shakiwicz asked for the continuance until his law partner, Irvin Wiseman, recovers from a heart condition.

More than 250 jurors have been questioned in the trial which began three weeks ago. Only four have been qualified.

Finding fault is no way to make a fortune, unless the fault is found in your business.

PARTIALLY INSTALLED, seven-stand finishing mill in the new hot strip department being installed in Granite City Steel Company's multi-million dollar modernization and expansion program. The two housings of a stand (far left and center) are 28 feet high and the legs are 5½ feet thick. The standards are on a concrete foundation, and the anchor bolts for setting them in place are so heavy that a crane is required to lift them. The finishing mill is expected to be in operation by mid-1967.

John X. Andersen Retiring Tuesday; 43 Years at ITR

John X. Andersen, 2217 Woodlawn avenue, widely-known for his activities in Boy Scout work, will retire Tuesday as general traffic manager of Illinois Terminal Railroad, according to William A. Nelson Jr., ITR vice president.

Andersen is completing 43 years service with the company. George D. Wertz, 1115 Edwardsville road, will be the new assistant freight traffic manager. Presently on a month-long vacation preceding his retirement, Andersen and his wife, Mrs. Kathryn M. Andersen, are preparing to leave soon to open their summer cottage on Pine Island, near Brownsville, Minn. The couple has maintained their northern holiday retreat for a number of years and plan this year to spend the entire summer there.

The cabin also provides a relaxing vacation spot for the Andersen's five daughters and nine grandchildren.

Active with the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council in earlier years, for which he received the coveted Silver Beaver Award, Andersen continues to serve as an advancement advisor to scouts seeking to qualify for camping merit badges. While a member of the council, he was among the leaders instrumental in establishing the Boy Scout camping site at Camp Sunken near Potosi, Mo.

Starting as a rate department clerk with the ITR 43 years ago, Andersen achieved distinction last year when elected to the "Board of Who's Who in Railroad," a national association. He is believed to be one of the few railroad men in the immediate area granted the honor.

Andersen also is a member of Masonic Triple Lodge 835.

A. S. Taylor of Edwardsville was appointed general traffic manager, and William L. Meyers, St. Louis, freight traffic manager, both positions previously filled by the local retiree.

son Park by next winter. The lowest quoted time was 180 days. A quick decision is being sought by the board as it has about a week in which to issue bonds. The bond sale has been arranged through the Mercantile Mortgage Co.

The board plans to meet again at 5 p.m. today or tomorrow if the architects have anything further to report.

Specifications contained 23 alternatives, which permitted the suggested paving of coals, and Gabriel and Dugroff was given more time to work with contractors. They indicated that the principal problem is in mechanical costs, and if $70,000 can be cut there, the board could award a contract and proceed with the bond sale.

Omit Roof?
It was suggested that a savings of $140,000 could result if the roof was omitted. Commissioner Milton Worthen, as a matter of discussion, said it could be added when funds were available.

Also discussed was cutting the steep, sloping roof to a flat height of about 20 feet. Both changes would require a new call for bids.

However, Commissioner William Kozayak was adamant in calling for a first class structure as promised to the voters at the time of the referendum. Otherwise, he said he would prefer to drop plans for an ice rink and recreation center at this time.

Other commissioners agreed with him the necessity of providing a quality structure.

Budget Cut Sought
In the regular meeting Tuesday night the commissioners planned a special tour of all park facilities to familiarize themselves with new and existing problems.

Such a review, it was said, might help in paring down this year's budget—about $60,000 over that of last year in its tentative form. Last year's budget totaled $217,920.

The board approved the purchase of a 1½-ton dump truck and a pickup truck after reviewing bids from five companies.

Bids on the pick-up truck were: Matthews Chevrolet $1567, Farrington Motors $1600, Hundley Pontiac Co. $1731, B. E. Holt Motors $1721, Brewer Motor Co. $1700. Bids for the dump truck were: Matthews Chevrolet $2701, Farrington Motors $2840, Hundley Pontiac Co. $2781, Holt $2685 and Brewer Motor Co. $2933.

A $4 per employee liability insurance plan was approved by the commissioners for 29 park employees.

The question of purchasing a lot for the hole left by the removal of the old diving tower near the swimming pool was resolved when it was determined the cost was too high. Park workers are to fill the excavation using existing fill from park areas.

A $6 entry fee for 10 park recreation leaders was approved for the upcoming June 18-19 recreation institute being hosted by the Granite City Park this year.

Lily Pond Fill
Filling the Lily pond with dirt and planting flowers was discussed. The pond is, in the opinion of commissioners, in need of repair and an eye-sore. It will be one of the many park aspects under study during the planned tour.

Filling or removal of a six-inch water-main connecting two fire hydrants also came under discussion. The main runs diagonally across the proposed site of the new ice rink.

Alleged Beating

ed at 8:05 p.m. Sunday on a charge of speeding on his motorcycle, at 27th street and Madison avenue, police said.

Still Compiling Data
Police Chief Raymond Willard said Wednesday that he would make no comment until an investigation is complete and facts are determined. The police officers are continuing on duty.

Verbal complaints were made by Mrs. Leroy Mangiaracino, mother of the youth, and her attorney, before two police commissioners and top police officials. Leo Konzen, assistant city attorney, also was present.

Eugene Burnett, police commissioner, said today the investigation will be conducted as expeditiously as possible, but that it is the responsibility of the board to protect the police officer in the performance of his duty in addition to protecting citizens. He said the police now are taking both "pro and con" statements from witnesses.

Mrs. Mangiaracino said witnesses residing on Voight place reported to her and to her attorney.

After her son regained consciousness Tuesday, Mrs. Mangiaracino said her son claimed that he did not see a red light on a patrol car or hear a siren until after he passed the Mitchell rail crossing, and then he pulled onto Voight and parked his motorcycle.

A reputation built on a weak foundation is very likely to topple over anytime.

Arrests to be Made for Dumping in Port Area

The Tri-City Regional Port district will begin signing arrest complaints against persons caught dumping trash and garbage in the port district area along the Chain of Rocks Canal front, it was announced today.

Carl Ranft, chairman of the port district board, said that repeated attempts to gain cooperation to halt the use of the area as a dumping grounds have failed and that more drastic action has become necessary. Ranft said that the offenses have increased since the closing of public dumps southeast of Granite City.

Signs have been posted throughout the port area, but they have not solved the problem, Ranft said.

"ACE SETS THE PACE" — QUANTITY AT LOWER PRICES

Mother is Firm Despite Picketing by Son

Picketing, once a means used solely by labor unions, is fast becoming a national pastime, and it extended into the tiny town bracket here this week.

Joining the ranks of college students and other types of picketers, Wallace DeShon Jr., a six-year-old, began picketing his home at 2437 Benton street Tuesday in protest against his bicycle being locked up in the basement as punishment.

Aided and abetted by his father, Wallace DeShon Sr., a third helper in the open hearth department at Granite City Steel Co., the youngster was attempting to persuade his mother to allow him to use his bicycle with his unauthorized strike threat.

The Emerson kindergarten pupil was deprived of his 26-inch vehicle by his mother 12 days ago, after he disobeyed orders and rode it off the sidewalk into heavily-travelled Benton street, almost being struck by a passing car.

Despite male predominance in the family, as Wally firmly believes his seven-month-old brother, Joseph, also is on his side, Mrs. DeShon said today the terms of the punishment period still stand.

She added that the boy can resume his bike-riding in two more weeks, only if he remains on good behavior.

His sign, carried on a string around his neck, stated "Mother is Unfair to Number One Son." Written on the reverse side is "Please Let Me Ride My Bike Out."

When seen outside his home Tuesday, Wally's dejected ap-

City Air Pollution Board To Meet with State June 8

A decision on application of local air pollution controls or those of the state may be made at the June 8 scheduled meeting of Granite City's board with the state air pollution control board.

The board is recommending the city hire a professional engineer to serve as technical secretary.

Announcement of the local meeting of the city and state boards was made during last night's meeting of the city air pollution control committee.

Thomas Boker, chairman, named a committee to study a report prepared by Erwin C. Hoelscher, Washington University professor hired by the city as an advisor, and to submit recommendations to the full board on action pertaining to industries and businesses.

Prof. Hoelscher told the board he had made inspections at 13 local firms, several of which have submitted proposals to the city.

The firms include Air Products Corp., A. P. Green Co., Nestle, National Lead Co., Granite City Metal Decorating Co., Union Starch & Refining Co., Reilly Tar & Chemical Corp., Lipsett Steel Co., Jenkinson Wright Corp., American Steel Foundries, Granite City Steel Co., General Steel Industries, and Nesco Steel Barrel Co.

Edwardsville Kiwanis Visit Local Club

Granite City Kiwanians combined with the members of the Edwardsville Kiwanis Club for an inter-club dinner meeting Monday evening at the Rose Bowl. In observance of Kiwanis International "radio month," Bob Baker, Wgnu radio news director, was the guest speaker.

He related his remarks to a recording made by Johnny Cee, "Day of the Cynic," which he said described many of today's philosophies regarding complacency found in the American public.

Other guests from Edwardsville, included Ervin Dustman, Homer Runge, Clyde Ritter, Donald Wallace and Dolores Carter, who serves as piano accompanist.

Revival Services at Faith Baptist Church

Revival services will be held at Faith Baptist Church, Faith avenue and Namoki road, beginning June 9 at 7:30 p.m. and continuing nightly through June 12, the pastor, Rev. Lucian Deligne, has announced.

The evangelist will be Rev. Gene Parker of Atlanta, Ga., who will be graduated May 31 from Tennessee Bible Temple in Chattanooga.

Jaycees Outline Program for State Sports Jamboree

Retailers Initiate New Membership Renewal Plan

A new system of obtaining membership renewals and dues payments was inaugurated by the Associated Retailers Association at a breakfast meeting at the Grand Cafe Tuesday morning.

The program, involving personal contact by board members working as teams, will continue through the next week. Officials said the dues change-over is expected to be easier than a membership drive because many members have paid dues but failed to return signed pledge cards. Pledges must be turned in. Under the new system they may be picked up personally by the membership teams.

Mrs. Koelling in Hospital

Mrs. Fred Koelling of Creve Coeur, Mo., formerly of this city, is a patient in St. John's Hospital, St. Louis, where she is undergoing treatment for pneumonia. She entered the hospital Monday.

A former major league pitcher, Emil "Dutch" Leonard, now a recreational consultant with the Illinois Youth Commission, discussed various aspects of the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree to be given Aug. 5 and 6 by the Granite City Jaycees. He spoke last night at a Jaycee-TYC joint planning meeting in the Tri-Mor Bowl. Twenty-seven attended. Leonard formerly played with the Senators, Cubs, Dodgers and Phillies. He said that 181 local contests have been scheduled throughout the state to date. Those qualifying at the local levels will compete in 12 sectional meets. Leonard said, with sectional winners advancing to the state finals in Granite City. About 600 youngsters are expected to reach the finals, he reported.

Other Illinois Youth Commission officials present were Muriel Runyon, information repre-

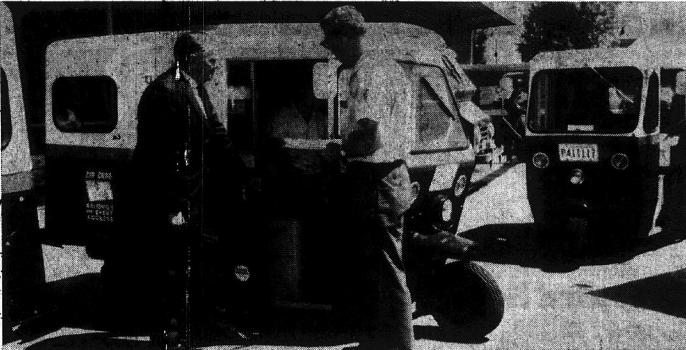

Social Security Office Open Monday

Ralph Brasher, manager of the district Social Security office in East St. Louis, announced today that the office will remain open Monday, Memorial Day, from 8:45 a.m. until 4:45 p.m.

Office hours will be maintained on the holiday to assist persons who have not yet signed up for the Medicare program. The office is Room 300, First Federal Building, 435 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis.

representative, and Oliver Swalm, Jamboree coordinator. Herbert Siebert and Boyd Presley are serving as co-chairman of the state meet.

Accommodations, meals, chaperones and related services to be provided by the host Jaycees group were discussed and a parade was planned along with an Olympic Torch ceremony. About 2000 spectators are expected.

Mayors Re-Elect All Officers

Approximately 40 members of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors re-elected officers by acclamation at a meeting in the Holiday Inn, East St. Louis, last night.

They are Barney Metz, Dupo, president; Raymond Rogers, Edwardsville, vice-president; Rudy DeBourge, Centerville, treasurer; and Irwin Blegge, Bethalto, secretary. Board members re-elected include Thomas Kinzler, Caseyville; Stephen M. A. R. S., Madison; and Plegge.

An expected report on a move to secure expansion of the Lewis-Clark Memorial Park was delayed pending a special meeting by a seven-man committee set up to investigate the proposal. Proponents of the park expansion from the Alton-Wood River-Hartford area are seeking a 500-acre park. Such an expansion would cut into the northern section of the area, where are existing 900-acre industrial park.

Harold E. Gove, staff engineer of the Union Electric Co., presented slides and spoke on the company's Taum-Sauk pumped storage hydro plants. Marvin Meyer and Thomas Stewart, both of Union Electric, were guests at the meeting.

August Matthies, 78, Collapses in Yard, Dies

After he collapsed while cutting grass in his front yard shortly after 10 a.m. today, August Matthies, 78, of 228 Edgemoor avenue, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 10:15 a.m. He had been under medical care with a heart ailment for the past two years.

Mr. Matthies, who was single, had resided in the Quad-Cities for more than 60 years. He was retired from Granite City Steel Co., where he was employed as a tin opener.

Survivors include a brother, Charles Matthies, Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Mary Fix, Piasa, Ill.; and nephew and niece, Harold, Elmore and Carol Fix, all of Portland.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Simon to be Presented Honorary Law Degree

State Senator Paul Simon will be one of two persons awarded honorary doctorate degrees Sunday at his alma mater, Dana College, Blair, Neb. Only one before in its 82-year history has Dana presented such degrees.

Simon, an author and former newspaperman noted for opposing organized crime, will deliver the Baccalaureate address at the Sunday morning. During afternoon ceremonies, he will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree, by action of the Dana board of regents.

GC Postmen to Use 'Mailsters'

Six mailsters, three-wheel motor scooters surrounded by a cab equipped with heater, fan, seat belt and windshield washers, have arrived at the Granite City post office and another 14 are on order. Postmaster W. Theodore Overbeck announced during a one-day driver training program yesterday.

John Bartel of East St. Louis served as instructor and six local mailmen qualified to operate mailsters, with three of them using them on their afternoon routes yesterday. Observing the instruction was Jerry Dempsey, East St. Louis, postal field service officer.

The small vehicles, which are permitted to be driven up to 25 miles an hour, enable postmen to carry parcels with them, eliminating the need for most parcel post truck deliveries except in the downtown area.

They also enable a mailman to take all of his mail with him, rather than utilizing relay mail boxes along the route. And they will simplify the task of traveling from the post office to the starting point of the route.

When all 20 mailsters have been received, it will enable assignment of the vehicles to half of all present Granite City mail routes.

MORE ABOUT $41-$61 Pay

Requests for such leave will be due to the superintendent's office by June 30. In subsequent years, the due date will be May 15.

Requests for leaves will be screened by a committee of three teachers, appointed by the federation president and superintendent, with final approval determined by the board.

The qualifying applicant for a qualifying leave will receive the same basic salary of the year preceding that in which the leave is granted, less substitute pay, but not less than the legal minimum salary or one-half the basic salary, whichever is greater.

The agreement climaxed a series of negotiation meetings between the superintendent and members of the teachers council committee who made joint recommendations.

Attending the special meeting were the full board, Brown and the teachers' contract committee of Mrs. Valerie Stevens, chairman; John W. Barr, president; and Mrs. Irene Cook, George Hopkins, Stanley Serwatka and Mrs. Marian K. Simms.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began, we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands. Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments. Others have specific needs... the steak must be 2 1/2" thick, the chops double thick and so forth. That's no problem. If you don't see it... just ask. We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"... the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats. Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

ALTAR SOCIETY MEETS, HONORS CLUB OFFICER

The Altar Society of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church met in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening for a monthly meeting, with 31 members present.

Mrs. Lillian Turk, president, opened the meeting with prayer. She thanked all the ladies who assisted with a booth at Nameoki Village during the past weekend. Mrs. Turk announced that since the Society does not meet in June or July for business meetings it is planned to take a conducted tour of the Cathedral in St. Louis in June, and on July 5 the members will attend the Municipal Opera to see "Desert Song," the trip being made by bus. Fifty tickets are now available.

Available at the meeting were "Helping Hands" signs for the block protection program now in effect for parish families.

Mrs. Helen Favier reported on the school picnic held this month and thanked all mothers who had assisted with the project.

Mrs. Lorraine Palladin commented on items needed for the annual Christmas bazaar, and urged the ladies to continue work on this project during the summer. Mrs. Krizan displayed several stuffed clowns she is making for the affair. As a fund raising project, Mrs. Helen Noth displayed several small boxes of cards.

Hostess was Mrs. Juanita Fuchs. Prizes went to Mrs. Gloria Besta, an embroidered quilt. Mrs. Josephine Uram, the Madonna, Sister Mary Joseph's class, best attendance.

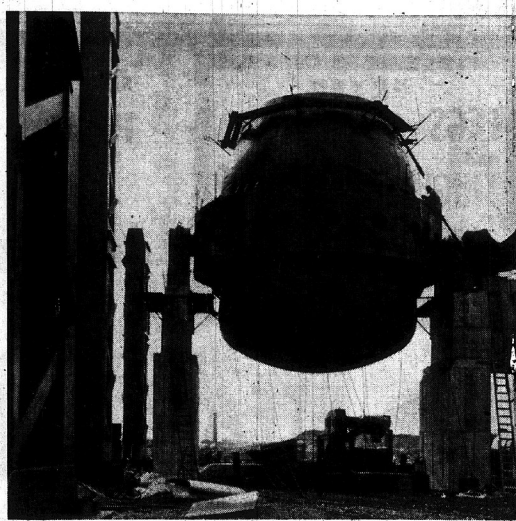

Guest speaker was Jim Reinhardt, who spoke on "Purposes of the CYO" and changes in that organization that will go into effect this fall.

The regular meeting was preceded by a farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. Francis Jordan, secretary of the Society, who will be leaving soon for New York.

The table centerpiece was a decorated jet airplane marked with the destination. Individual favors were golden suitcases, with the outline of New York on the sides. Mrs. Jordan was presented with a crystal bracelet with three charms attached.

Mrs. Dolores Kiefer was appointed to fill the unexpired term of secretary.

Next regular meeting will be held at the school cafeteria Aug. 23.

HUGE VESSEL of one of two basic oxygen furnaces is fitted in its trunnion ring at Granite City Steel Co. The two furnaces, each with a capacity of a 20-ton heat every 50 minutes, will be operated one at a time and are scheduled to start next year, replacing the seven open hearth furnaces. The furnaces are to be enclosed in a building. Each weighs 190 tons, the trunnion ring an additional 175 tons. They rest on huge roller bearings. The inside diameter of a furnace is 24 feet.

MRS. HOGAN HOSTESS TO CANASTA CLUB

Mrs. Mary Hogan entertained her canasta club Tuesday evening in her home, 2140 Clark avenue, for its semi-monthly meeting.

Those winning prizes with high scores were Miss Charlotte Jerencovic, first, Mrs. Carmen Allen, second, Mrs. DeArle Smart, third, and Mrs. Becky Parish, floater prize.

The hostess served a buffet luncheon to the prize winners and Mesdames Vella Mae Tucker, Marie Naeve and Fern Wright.

The club will disband for the summer and resume its meetings Sept. 13.

Revision of State Assemblies Urged To Strengthen Their Effectiveness

Sweeping reforms to strengthen state legislatures were recommended by the 28th Annual Assembly of the "State Legislatures in American Politics" held April 28 to May 1 at Arden House, a part of the National Municipal League's five-year State Legislatures Project.

The Assembly will be followed by a series of regional assemblies. It was attended by former governors, legislators, local government officials, journalists, educators and civic leaders.

It issued the following statement at the close of four days of discussions:

"This is a decisive moment in the development of American politics.

It provides an unprecedented opportunity to re-evaluate the state of the states and improve their capacity to participate in the federal-state partnership.

The opportunity for public action arises from the nationwide ferment stirred by the court decisions compelling reapportionment and by branch strength over changing state participation in the federal structure.

The 50 states are searching for the effective means of making their part more constructive.

At the heart of this appraisal is an intensive re-examination of the state legislature—its functions, its powers and responsibilities, its structure, its procedures, its personnel—opening up the possibility for fundamental change that can improve this basic institution of American democracy.

Daring, Imagination

The states should move with daring and imagination to strengthen the legislature in all its aspects to give it maximum effectiveness in the changing federal system.

This focus on the state legislature by no means implies a derogation of the executive. Strengthening each branch strengthens all by contributing to a strong state government.

Reform should go beyond meeting minimum standards of fair representation—and beyond changes that simply enable the legislature to do its tasks responsibly and effectively.

We encourage a break with institutional features that now produce chronic weakness and popular distrust.

State legislatures have failed to meet the challenge of change because they have been handicapped by restricted powers, inadequate tools and facilities, inefficient organization and procedures, unattractive turnover of legislative service and lack of public understanding and confidence, and because legislative themselves have been unduly timid in using the powers already in their possession to strengthen their role.

The states differ greatly among themselves in their natural settings, their social and economic life, their political parties, and in their legislative habits and practices.

Recognizing these differences, we offer the following recommendations as a guide for continuing efforts by the states to improve their legislatures.

Severe Limitations

1. In many states, legislatures operate under severe constitutional limitations on their powers.

Provisions safeguarding the rights of individual citizens and basic procedural protections to insure the integrity of legislative processes should be preserved.

Constitutions should, however, leave legislatures as unhampered as possible, encouraging the development of their own self-reliance.

Constitutional limits on the taxing power, constitutional earmarking of revenues, constitutional requirements that bills be submitted to popular vote, and other limitations on a legislature's power to appropriate public funds, and to address itself to public questions, should be eliminated.

2. Use of the popular initiative is inconsistent with representative government, except for the call of a constitutional convention.

The referendum should not be employed to reverse legislative decisions or to evade legislative responsibility.

3. Enactment of private bills, bills affecting few persons, local and special bills, should be minimized in state legislatures.

The purpose of such bills, where possible, should be achieved through general legislation.

4. Because public problems often transcend state lines, legislatures should organize themselves to communicate effectively with other state legislatures and agencies of government, and be willing to authorize or participate in inter-governmental and regional programs.

Fair Representation

5. The practice of "one man, one vote" is applied, innovations in districting policies to improve patterns of representation are desirable.

Few Thousand Dollars for Fence Last Obstacle to $2½ Million River Road

The Illinois Highway Division this week agreed to provide both the right-of-way and construction of a 22-foot-wide frontage road adjacent to the Riverfront Road in the West 20th street-Cayuga street area. It also committed itself to build a similar frontage road near Harding Blvd.

This removes the last major problem that has been delaying grading work for the new highway in 1966. The city council is now in a position to approve its Federal Aid Route 151 agreement with the state, and should do so immediately to assure that the more than $1 million allocated for the project this year is not diverted elsewhere.

To increase safety in three populated areas along the route of the river road, the city would be justified in financing installation of fencing.

In any case, the fence is a matter that can be solved locally. The state has gone as far as it can by agreeing to permit the fence to be located on the highway right-of-way. The state cannot pay for it because it has not installed fencing on that type of road anywhere in Illinois except at intersections; to do so would set a precedent that could result in highway financing problems throughout the state.

Cost of the fence, estimated at a few thousand dollars, is inconsequential compared to the overall $2½ million state-federal improvement. The highway's major economic stimulus to Quad-City area and Madison county. It would be money well spent by the city government.

Now that the state has pledged to the city, Tri-City Region and Madison County, the city and county will follow through to provide the desired frontage lane, the stage is set for council approval.

No time should be wasted in going on record and then signing the agreement, for if any delay merits higher priority. Those who vote favorably will deserve the thanks of the public for their role in expediting a project of such importance to all.

It is hoped that by 1966, making the 1966 year of local effort to obtain the riverfront highway.

As the Graduation Speakers Say, Not an End But a Beginning

Graduation time is at hand for many Quad-City high school seniors. It is a time of celebration and reflection. The graduates are about to enter the world of work and study. They are about to begin a new chapter in their lives.

Tradition calls for them to be exhorted to make the end of their school courses merely the beginning of a lifelong search for knowledge, achievement and service. Most of the inspirational messages they will hear will stress that the future is theirs, and that never before has the outlook been so challenging.

Familiar as such statements may seem, they

Low Income Residents Are Eligible for Food Stamps

Individuals with low income as well as persons on general assistance are eligible to obtain food stamps under the new program initiated in this area earlier this year, and may obtain information on the program by contacting the Madison County Public Aid office in Edwardsville, Ill. where it was reported today.

The food stamp program, originally started by the government in a number of test areas in 1961 and later extended to other parts of the nation, was inaugurated in this area several months ago for general assistance clients. The program now covers persons of low income who do not receive public assistance, with food stamp purchases allowed on the basis of net income.

Under the program, persons who qualify can exchange the amount of their net monthly income for food for coupons worth more. The U. S. government pays the difference between what the family or individual pays and the total value of the coupons they get.

Eligibility in the program is on a household basis. A household is considered one individual, or a group of related individuals, living as an economic unit, sharing cooking facilities and for whom the household head is responsible for the home and institutional needs are not eligible. All senior citizens who do not receive public assistance also may participate in the program if they meet the household criteria.

Based Income

Net income, the basis on which applicants must apply, is income after certain allowable deductions. These deductions vary according to individual circumstances and therefore can be determined only by the local office. Dr. Prince was introduced by Sen. Simon as "the best qualified man to have ever held the post of food stamp director for the office."

still retain a ring of truth while taking on new meaning each year.

For many, graduation will be only a stepping stone to additional formal education. Others will take up their life's task immediately, or enter military service.

Each will learn that, although education is an increasingly essential preparation for life, it is primarily a "foot in the door." If the door of opportunity is to remain open to them, performance and dedication to the chosen trade or profession must be demonstrated.

"Every generation expects the next era to bring miraculous changes. This prediction is surely pertinent today when the small fund of knowledge, and implementation of it, is expanding at record speed.

With the population of the world rising sharply, "Buck Rogers" technology now a reality, and mankind attaining greater insight into human values and goals, the future obviously holds infinite challenge and opportunity.

The remaining years of the 20th century truly belong to the young. With much hope, some sympathy—and even a little envy—the older generation prepares to pass the torch of an enlightened and free civilization, and wishes them well.

Workshops Enable Retarded to Achieve Productive Lives

With the progress that has been made toward establishing a specialized workshop in the Quad-Cities, the remaining need—a suitable building—is not likely to cause indefinite delay.

Such a workshop has proven effective in communities like Alton in training retarded persons for work in private industry and also in providing a place of work for those unable to "graduate" so elsewhere.

Such programs aid the individual and society by making lives useful and productive that otherwise might be wasted. The work done in many workshops of this type has enabled them to become self-sustaining financially after the first several years.

244 Letters to the Editor Published in Past 12 Months

More than 200 persons have taken advantage of the opportunity to express their viewpoints in The Forum of the Press-Record during the past 12 months.

The 244 letters to the editor published during this one-year period served several purposes. In addition to enabling the writers to publicize opinions which they felt were of general public interest and concern, The Forum column provided a "two-way street." The newspaper gave the editor an editorial, through the letter, it was able to publish the comments of the local citizenry, reacting to governmental decisions, Press-Record articles and editorials, and the opinions of other readers. This in turn aided citizens and officials in understanding and interpreting "grassroots level" public issues.

Without overemphasizing it can be said that letters from the public aid directly in enabling our democracy to function, our community to flourish and our freedoms to be retained.

In an era when many public meetings and gatherings are too large and cumbersome to permit free airing and exchange of views every topic that arises, the Press-Record is happy to be able to provide a supplementary service. Personal conversations with officials and others should continue, but keep the letters coming, too. As in the past, we will regard them as one of the most important things we publish.

The way to break a habit is to drop it.

Q. We have bought 100 shares of stock at $25. Now it is about $15. Can you tell us why?

A. The most recent time you bought the stock was in 1962. That year it earned 32 cents a share, which means that at $25, you paid 78 times earnings.

If your purchase was based on the previous year's earnings of 67 cents, you still paid better than 35 times earnings. In neither year was there any prospect of your getting dividend income.

Whenever you pay much more than 15 or 20 times earnings for a stock you must realize you are paying a very high price and the odds are that in the years ahead it is likely to sell at a substantially lower price—unless earnings increase quite rapidly.

More Normal Price Reached

Q. My company has in fact increased its sales, with the result that its earnings are now in the range of $1.50 a share. This means that at the current price the stock is selling at 10 times earnings—or about an eighth the number of times earnings at which you bought it.

The present range is much more normal for this type of company and it would seem that the way it has in the last three years, your investment should grow nicely in value from this time forward.

Former Resident Assigned to Formosa

Murray, 18, a former Granite City resident, left Monday evening for the west coast, where he will spend this week for Formosa. He is expected to remain there for 13 months duty at the U. S. Air Force Base on the island.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Murray, the youth had resided here with his father until moving to Bettendorf, Ia., about three years ago. He attended Granite City schools, and enlisted in the service in June, 1965.

Murray recently completed advanced training in radio electronics at Resnick AFB, Texas. He was awarded by relatives and friends at a farewell dinner party by his uncle, Dr. Harry H. Arnold, 104 Twenty-first street.

Improved State Expense Procedures

Corrective procedures involving travel expenses, and fiscal control of appropriations and expenditures—recently put into practice by some elected state officials and departments of government—have followed many of the recommendations made by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, it was pointed out this week.

On March 28, the Federation cited the necessity of having specific and uniform travel regulations and allowances for all departments and agencies of state government, such allowances being according to classification. The recommendations also included re-establishment of the position, duties, and responsibilities of the internal auditor.

"Credit is due Governor Kerr, Auditor Howlett, Treasurer Scott, Attorney General Clark, Secretary of State Powell and the Department of Public Instruction Page for agreeing to follow expense standards established in 1964 by the State Department of Finance," the TFI commented.

Internal Auditor Post

It is to be noted that among the measures adopted by the Secretary of State Powell to achieve greater financial responsibility, checks and controls in his office, the one of commanding importance is the establishment of the position of internal auditor.

"All other state agencies that do not have such an officer, or have an internal auditor without the purpose of this position, should be required to implement a spell out of their situation, with the view of either initiating or reconstructing this position within the concepts of its proper governmental role.

"It is not enough for such reports to just show a statement of appropriations in relation to expenditures, but also to show a resulting unbalanced or potential deficit.

"Periodic and searching reports on the status of the budget of a department or division of government, showing the results of its programs, projected expenditures, and actual and projected budgetary surpluses and deficits, would be a most effective means of controlling financial operations.

"Also, such scheduled reports would help to insure a more thorough preparation of future budgets."

Beware Cadmium Poison
Cadmium poisoning has been a concern of the Illinois Department of Public Health for years, according to Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, department director.

Cadmium poisoning results from the use of refrigerator racks for cooking on barbecue grills. Instances of metallic cadmium poisoning have also resulted from storing an acid liquid, such as a fruit drink, in pans made of metals containing cadmium or antimony.

More recently, several deaths were reported from the industrial use of silver solder. This is a risk for hobbyists who use such solder. The danger lies in breathing the fumes, which are practically odorless. Good circulation of air is needed when soldering.

Permits Required
Organizations that hold wild raccoon hunts, field trials, regattas or other such activities requiring authorization or permits from the Illinois Department of Conservation must apply at least 10 days prior to the date of the event. A permit will not be granted if requests are not received by the Springfield office in the required time.

New Weights, Measures Lab
The Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Feeds, Fertilizers and Standards is to receive a complete new weights and measures laboratory, according to Robert M. Schneider, department director.

States were selected to receive the new laboratories on the basis of their physical facilities and personnel and their past record of achievement.

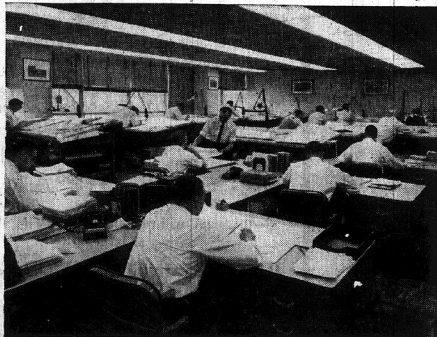

The Illinois Division of Weights and Measures is recognized throughout the United States for its outstanding work in protecting the consuming public.

First Overseas Shipment
The first foreign vessel of the 1966 shipping season loaded with export grain destined for overseas ports left the Port of Chicago harbor recently. The ship, the M/V Mikoyan Maru, carried a cargo of 142,000 bushels of No. 2 yellow soybeans. Its destination is Yokohama, Japan.

In 1965, and all-time high of over 25 million bushels of grain were shipped directly to overseas ports, exceeding the export shipping of 1964 by approximately 10 million bushels. The 1966 shipping season is expected to exceed 1965.

Entomological Society Presy
Al Lopinor, chief fishery biologist of the Illinois Department of Conservation, was elected president of the Entomological Society at the 14th Annual Meeting of the organization at Central Michigan University in Mt. Lumber Theft At Anchorage is Federal Offense

Theft of about $1000 in framing lumber from the Anchorage Homes construction site constitutes a federal crime and prosecution of the thieves will be pushed if caught, the Cannon Construction Co., contractor on the project, pointed out this week.

The lumber, taken during the weekend, was reported to Granite City police Monday, but the construction superintendent said the project comes under the U. S. Housing Act and is a federal offense.

He was told by three women that they had seen a pickup truck

Memorial Day Precaution

'Red Traffic Alert' Starts Friday in State

State troopers of the 11th Illinois district, which includes the Quad-City area, will initiate the usual "Red Alert" traffic program at 6 p.m. tomorrow in an effort to keep accidents at a minimum during the Memorial Day weekend.

With another three-day holiday at hand, officials warned today that hundreds of persons customarily die needlessly on highways in Illinois and throughout the nation during such holiday periods because of disregard of safety rules in their hurry to get where they are going and then to return home.

Capt. Emil Toffant, in charge of District 11 state police, said that troopers will be out in full force, patrolling the area's highways in an effort to enforce traffic laws. He noted, however, that without the cooperation of the motorists the number of accidents probably will remain high. Leaves of all troopers have been cancelled for the three-day holiday, and uniformed patrolmen will be on duty to assist investigators of the Secretary of State's office will be sent into the area to supplement the district force of state patrolmen.

Illinois highway police planes will be employed in patrolling main highways during the three-day holiday period. Capt. Toffant said patrol cars will be placed in various locations to intercept violators who are spotted from the air by the pilot who radios information to the patrol car.

The "Red Alert" will continue from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. Favorable weather is expected to result in crowded highways over the weekend, but particularly Friday night and Monday night, Capt. Toffant said.

The highways, he explained, and costs on a careless driving charge and $50 and costs on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor in magistrate's court. The charges were filed April 25.

Fee for the inoculation will be $2.50 per pet.

Proof of an inoculation is required for 1966 dog licenses which are now due and on sale at the office of the city clerk in the city hall. Dog license fees are $1 for a male pet and $2 for a female.

The shots will be administered by two local veterinarians, L. H. Holt and L. O. Tadlock.

5 State Officials Agree on Expense, Travel Allowances

Agreement has been reached among the secretary of state, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, state treasurer and auditor of public accounts to extend to employees of those offices the travel expense regulations of the Department of Finance.

The expense rules, published in a booklet, "Travel Regulations," previously were enforced only in code departments and certain commissions and agencies, with a total of $4,445 employees as of February.

The new agreement will extend the same standard rules for the first time to 4104 more employees. Their travel expenses up to now have been paid by the auditor if their travel vouchers were certified by the elected officer they worked under.

In effect, the elected officer fined the travel expense restrictions upon employees, including limitation of car mileage and hotel accommodations, hotel accommodations, etc.

The new agreement will limit employees to 8 cents a mile for travel in their own automobile, $8 for hotel accommodations downtown, $10 in the Chicago metropolitan area; $1 for breakfast, $1.50 for lunch and $3 for dinner.

Employees of the courts, Senate, House of Representatives and the universities have not needed Department of Finance vouchers for expense vouchers by law, and are not involved in the new agreement.

About 10,000 to 12,000 state personnel travel regularly on business and submit monthly vouchers for reimbursement of travel expenses.

Storing Winter Woollens

Moths attack only wool. So don't waste mothproofing materials and storage areas by packing synthetic sweaters, skirts and slacks with the woolen garments.

Nor do you need to mothproof all woollens. Many garments on the market today have been mothproofed by the manufacturers.

Wise homemakers read the hang-tags and labels on each new garment and make a record of the treated garments. This record simplifies their spring cleaning and storage problems. Those who have garments mothproofed by a dry-cleaner for a guaranteed time also keep a record not only of the garment, but of the date it was treated.

After deciding what garments need protection from moths during the summer months, you can do either of two things: Clean all garments. Don't attract moths by offering them food on the wool. They eat the food, or dirt spots, first and continue on a diet of wool.

Brush and air all garments that are not cleaned or washed. The brushing removes any moth eggs in the garment. The sunlight kills the moth larvae.

Put these clean and moth-free garments in airtight containers such as sealed bags or wrap tightly in heavy brown paper.

Cedar chests are good storage areas mainly because of tight construction. The cedar wood is effective against moths only if 70% of the chest is made of 3/4-inch heartwood. Heartwood is the red wood that has the cedar odor.

Use of chemicals is the final step in preventing moths. Oil solutions of both DDT and fluonide can be sprayed on the garments before storage. These sprays are not permanent, but they are effective until the garments are either dry-cleaned or washed.

These solutions can also be used to disinfect storage areas. After cleaning drawers and closets, spray the cracks and crevices as a preventive measure.

The older and more familiar way to store woollens is to pack them with vaporizing chemicals. This method is satisfactory if the storage is airtight and the concentration of chemicals is high enough.

The chemical odor, unpleasant as it may be to you, is not enough to discourage moths. The effective concentration must be high, so follow the directions on the box carefully.

Also, place the crystals at the top of the storage container. Because these odors are heavier than air, the fumes cannot go up.

Common sense can never be placed in the same class with genius, but it often gets more comfort out of life.

McIlvoy to Receive Award at U. I. Parade

Tax Collection Periods Set for Quad-Cities

Tax collections in the Quad-City area for the 1965 tax year are under way in Chouteau township and will be started in Venice and Nameoki townships within the next two weeks. The regular daily hours at his home payments this year at the old First National bank building at Fourth street and Madison avenue. Venice township taxpayers will be billed for a total of $18,864.

E. R. "Pat" Rich, Granite City treasurer, said preparation of tax bills is continuing at his office on June 6, although the opening date for beginning collections will be on Monday, June 13. Nameoki township taxpayers will begin paying their tax bills on June 6, although the opening date is tentative and possibly could be advanced to June 3, it was reported today.

Frank Reidelberger Jr., town collector of Venice township, said he has not yet determined a specific date for beginning collections, but that it probably will be about June 7 or 8. Venice township collections are made

100 Foster Homes Needed For Neglected Children

A critical need for foster homes to care for dependent and neglected children exists in the Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties areas, according to Mrs. Catherine Stookey, social work supervisor, Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Within the next six months there is a need for an additional 100 foster homes. Request for the care of the children and foster homes are received daily. Children needing foster care range in age from infancy to 17 years.

"Children need foster care when a family breaks down and there are no relative resources," Mrs. Stookey said. "There are various reasons contributing to the breakdown of a family. For example, this may be caused by death of one or both parents; illness either physical or emotional of the parents; or desertion of the parent and inability of the remaining parent to carry on. "Some of the more upset children are placed in children's homes. However, most of the children coming under the care of the department desperately work to need the opportunity to experience normal family living. These children need the personal attention, acceptance, understanding, warmth and affection that a good foster home offers," the supervisor explained.

The Department's pay board provides for the care of the children, and an allowance is provided to meet clothing and medical needs.

"Foster parents caring for children receive personal satisfaction from helping a child at a critical period. To see a sad, unhappy child begin to respond and smile spontaneously because of the security he finds in a foster family, gives foster parents incalculable satisfaction," Mrs. Stookey pointed out.

The requirements for being foster parents are flexible as the department has children of varying backgrounds and needs to be placed in foster care. The most important requirement is that one parent and inability of the remaining parent to carry on. "A happy married couple who have a child in their life is essential," the social of the department desperately work to need the opportunity to experience normal family living. These children need the personal attention, acceptance, understanding, warmth and affection that a good foster home offers," the supervisor explained.

income to meet basic needs of own family, adequate sleeping child to the foster child can have his own bed, age of foster parents suitable to meet the needs of the children they wish to care for and good health of all family members.

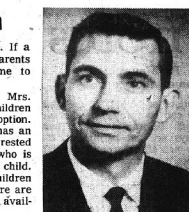

Foster parents need the ability to tolerate frustration. They must be able to observe and report a child's behavior and accept suggestions and direction from a social worker. They need security and maturity, so they are not upset by the community's reaction to behavior of upset children.

"After receiving an inquiry by letter or telephone from an interested couple, a social worker arranges to talk jointly with a couple and then visit their home to see if the agency can accept them as prospective foster parents."

Most of the Department's successful foster parents have had children of their own. Many of these children are near the age of the foster children placed in their home. The department finds prior experience with children a real asset to the success of being a foster parent.

"Children may need care for a few months or a year or more depending on the child's individual situation," she said. When possible the department tries to place children in their parents' homes. Children remain in foster care on a long term basis.

"Many foster parents serve as a resource for department children on a continuing basis. If a parent is returned to his own family, adequate sleeping child to the foster child can have his own bed, age of foster parents suitable to meet the needs of the children they wish to care for and good health of all family members.

Interagency Board For Civil Service Gets Executive

Appointment of an executive officer for the new St. Louis Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners that also will serve Madison and St. Clair counties was announced this week by Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Simpson, commanding general of the Army Mobility Equipment Center, St. Louis.

The board, one of 65 established throughout the country, is the first in the midwest and will be under the supervision of Lee R. Shearin, formerly a personnel specialist at the NASA Manned Space Flight Center at Houston, Tex.

The board will furnish government job information to the public, hold Civil Service tests and refer qualified candidates to federal agencies in Madison and St. Clair counties and eastern Missouri.

Ten agency boards are being formed by the Interagency Board, which consolidates Civil Service recruiting and testing at a single one-stop center at 1800 Market street, St. Louis. Persons interested in federal employment may visit the center or call MA 2-2085.

Daily Events This Week For Jehovah Witnesses

Angelo Scaglione, 1938 Joy street, presiding minister of the Granite City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced a change in the congregational meetings this week due to the visit of a special representative from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Conrad G. Klapstein, circuit supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses activities in the midwestern portion of Illinois, visits each congregation in his circuit three times each year as part of an advanced training program for Jehovah's Witnesses. The activity schedule is also designed to encourage more Bible discussion by the people of all faiths in the community.

One feature of Klapstein's visit will be to make house-to-house visits with local ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses, giving them counsel and special assistance in their ministerial activities.

The minister's wife, Helen, will also share in training women members of Jehovah's Witnesses to become more proficient in the door-to-door ministry by accompanying them as they visit people throughout the community. Although women do not preach from the pulpit, they share their religious news with their neighbors.

From yesterday through Sunday there will be morning and afternoon services devoted to field missionary work. A program Saturday evening will begin at 8 o'clock with a Bible question period, "New Things Learned," including audience participation.

Highlight of the week will be Sunday at 3 p.m. when Klapstein gives a public discourse, "How Practical is the Search For Wealth?" All meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall, located at 2822 Palmer avenue. The public is being invited to attend all sessions.

Old Shawneetown Just Keeps on Vanishing

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

Time naturally takes its toll. Man's indifference and neglect serve on the side of time and emblems of a region's past continue to disappear. Within easy memory numerous landmarks after serving their first purpose, have gone. With their disappearance, the last visual evidences of an earlier way of life also may disappear.

A long list of vanished Illinoisiana could easily be made. Some have been replaced by "a reasonable facsimile thereof." For instance, ivory stables have been replaced by unromantic sounding rent-a-cars. Southern Illinois boasts a scant half dozen real blacksmith shops and only one remains. Three or four years ago there were hundreds of them. Men with grinders and welding torches have taken over. Remains of an abandoned and idle grist mill occasionally may be found surrounded by briars, horseweeds, and saplings. No operating one is known. About every town of a few hundred population once had its flouring mill. Last year two still were grinding away.

Only one general country store like those once encountered at intervals over the countryside is recalled, and its entire "hard ware department" would hardly lead a wheelbarrow. Three one-room rural schools are the rear guard of many thousands. Is there a single country school left?

Sorghum mills, rail fences, wooden bridges, tobacco barns, barns with hay forks, wash boards, operating windmills, mudboats, lizards, ash hoppers, wagon wheels, rowing boats, log posts, side saddles, western wash tubs, double shovels, traction engines, board brakes and forty other objects once familiar now are rare.

One might well drive over the country side for a day and not see one of the objects named here. The writer somehow, would like to see specimens gathered and preserved with pictures and data necessary to indicate their purpose and manner of use. No one wants to go back. Just as surely many would not want to forget.

As each of the objects named above added its bit to the whole story so do many buildings and sites suggest interesting stories to a curious visitor.

A recent visit to Old Shawneetown, brought to mind one such building, the 150-year-old John Marshall residence. It has been owned for several years by the State of Illinois and was earlier mentioned as one of the states significant landmarks to be restored and preserved. Any such plans apparently have been abandoned.

Plaque Disappears

Some years ago the bronze plaque placed there by the DAR to identify the house to visitors and to briefly indicate its history disappeared from beside the front door. Weeds, bushes and rubble began to take over and evidences of neglect became apparent.

Now it is rumored that the old residence that housed the first bank in Illinois will be allowed to crumble away. With its disappearance will go the one building in Illinois around which much of the state's early business story clusters. Though unmarked and seldom mentioned now, it still suggests how trade and barter came to Southern Illinois.

When white man came to this region he brought tools, articles of clothing, utensils and weapons, along with varied supplies that the natives wanted.

The Indians in turn could furnish commodities that the whites wanted, principally pelts and furs as high as the gun was tall. At first there was a medium of exchange and trade was conducted by direct barter. Beaver pelts and deer skins were common units of value. An Indian could have a gun in exchange for a stack of beaver pelts as high as the gun was tall. To say the least beaver pelts and deer skins were a cumbersome currency.

How Dollar Became "Buck"

Deerskins, however, remained a unit of value long enough to leave us the word "buck" for a dollar. A better and easier handling medium of exchange was needed, that is money.

John Marshall, who apparently had been serving for some time as a private banker, according to the legislature of Illinois Territory for a charter allowing him to establish and operate a bank by established legal pattern. The legislature granted him a charter to do so on December 28, 1816. The first bank in Illinois thus came into existence. The office and vault of that bank were in the now abandoned Marshall residence.

The vault for this new bank was a great iron bound oak chest with a ponderous lock. Its sides were driven thickly with heavy iron studs to foil any one that might dare attempt a bank robbery by the use of a chopping knife. The chest was so strong it was increased by an armed watchman who slept on the vault at night. The mass of oak and iron that was Marshall's vault is now in the museum of the Chicago Historical Society.

Thus it was that chartered banking in Illinois had its humble beginning at Shawneetown in 1816. The Marshall residence remains as it is crumbling memorial to that fact. The new State Bank Building takes up the later story of banking in Illinois.

GCAARC Nominates Officers, Plans Summer Day Camp

Final plans for a summer day camp, nomination of new officers and slides of a European tour, comprised the principal business and program Monday evening, when the Granite City Association for Aged and Retarded Children met for a monthly session at St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Hazel Kynion, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the slate of proposed officers.

They include: Eugene Tondre, president; Mrs. Emma Reileke, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Lou Neumann, secretary; and Mrs. Helen DeRuit, treasurer.

An election is scheduled for June. Arrangements for the GCAARC-sponsored summer day camp have been completed, Mrs. Neumann, day camp chairman, reported.

The two-week program, to be conducted at Wilson Park, will start June 13 and continue each weekday through June 24. Mrs. Patricia Maxey, a Nidringhaus school teacher, is to serve as camp supervisor, assisted by GCAARC members and park district recreational employees.

The meeting on Monday continued with a program of colored slides taken by Mrs. Evelyn Gavin, association president, while attending an international congress of the mentally handicapped in Paris, France, earlier this year.

Several slides showed rehabilitation and child care centers in Britain and Holland, also visited by Mrs. Gavin.

Farm Column

Madison County Farm Adviser

Rains May Cut Corn Yield

The delay in corn planting caused by the rainy weather has definitely reduced the prospect for high corn yields this year. Very little corn has been planted. On most farms field operations are two to three weeks behind schedule.

Not many years ago just about any time in the month of May was all right for planting corn. In fact, experiments in central Illinois as recent as ten years ago showed little yield decrease in plantings from the first to the last of May. But it's different now, with our yields running much higher. We have to have all the factors going for us to get more than a hundred bushels an acre consistently and one of the important factors is early planting.

There is still time to get corn off to a fairly good start, however, if much of it can be planted within the next week. With normal temperatures, the young plants should grow fast, with so much moisture in the ground. Care should be taken to avoid working the ground too wet. Be sure it is dry enough.

Yields are usually higher and damage from lodging, insects, and disease less for early-planted corn than that planted later.

Early planting is commonly defined as planting when soil is at the three-inch depth. This may or may not be a good definition because soil temperatures fluctuate with air temperature and may be in the low 50s when the temperature of the soil is in the 60s. The approximate soil temperature can be estimated by averaging the air temperatures at 7 a.m. and noon. The average of these two temperatures will approximate the soil temperature at the three-inch depth.

Corn grows very slowly at temperatures in the low 50s. A temperature of 50 is considered the minimum for noticeable growth. The optimum lies somewhere between 86 and 95 F., and the maximum lies in the range of 104 to 111. The optimum and maximum temperatures vary with the soil moisture and humidity. The time for planting to emergency may take 10 days to two weeks at low temperatures.

When other perennial pasture mixtures and grasses dry up during July, August and September, sorghum-sudangrass hybrids will fill the need for additional forage. These hybrids are similar in many respects to sudangrass, but are taller, have thicker stems and under some conditions provide more forage than sudangrass. Many sorghum-sudangrass hybrids can carry three to five cows or their equivalent per acre during the summer.

Sorghum-sudangrass hybrids provide the best quality forage when used as pasture, green chop or haylage. Silage made from them contains much moisture for good-quality forage. Leaving hybrids until the grain matures improves their quality, but corn will produce more grain and make a better silage.

A seeding rate of 20 to 30 bushels per acre in well-fertilized soil is recommended. Use the same fertilizer rates as for top corn yields. You can sow seed from now until late June in 7- to 21-inch rows with good results.

For high-quality forage, cut sorghum-sudangrass hybrids frequently. Don't let plants get taller than 40 inches. Feeding quality, protein quality and digestibility decrease when hybrids become too tall. Harvest at least three times, leaving a stubble of five-inch stubble. Avoid harvesting regrowth less than 18 inches tall because of the possibility of prussic acid and nitrate problems. Grazing is safe after a killing frost if there is no regrowth.

Sorghum-sudangrass hybrids can fill a real gap in forage production, especially where wet injury has damaged other pastures.

Controlling Insects

You can avoid the hazardous use of baits to control insects in your home by using a foundation spray. Spraying the foundation of the house with either chlordane or dieldrin will keep out such insects as ants, waterbugs, or oriental roaches, spiders, crickets and millipedes. Spray the entire foundation to the point of runoff, and also spray a narrow band of soil next to the foundation. One application in the spring should be adequate for the entire season. University of Illinois Circular 887, available at the farm adviser's office, gives complete directions for foundation spraying.

Soybean Contest

Any Madison county farmer growing at least 10 acres of soybeans this year can enter the Illinois Five-Acre Soybean Yield Contest.

The state contest is sponsored by the Illinois Crop Improvement Association with the cooperation of the Cooperative Extension Service. The County Extension Council will organize and operate the local contest in accordance with state contest rules.

County contestants can designate peratures and only four or five days at soil temperatures in the high 60s. Obviously, when the corn kernel germinates slowly and the seedling emerges slowly, soil-borne diseases and insects have an opportunity to reduce the stand.

Delayed planting may help the weed problem in some fields, as many of the weed seeds that are going to germinate will have already done so. Delaying the planting of corn usually means the number of weed seedlings in the crop.

Using preemergence herbicides should still be your choice for controlling weeds, however. Pre-emergence herbicides "work" an average of three out of four years. They are generally more reliable with less crop damage, than post-emergence chemicals, and they give you more choices. If preemergence herbicides don't work, you still have a choice of rotary hoeing, postemergence chemicals and cultivation as methods of controlling weeds.

Farmers may show a renewed interest in rotary hoeing because weather kept them from applying pre-emergence herbicides. Rotary hoeing is most effective when weeds are just popping through the soil. Or as University of Illinois weed specialist Marshall Melchior says, "It is when the fuzz begins to show, go, go, go with the rotary hoe."

By allowing more choices for weed control, pre-emergence corn yields as do postemergence materials. And the longer weeds grow, the bigger they also get. Out of yields. In U. of I. research six-inch weeds reduced the yield by three per cent.

If you must use a post-emergence herbicide to control weeds, use 2-4-D for broadleaf weeds. It's the most inexpensive and effective. Atrazine is cleared for use as a pre-emergence or post-emergence herbicide but be sure to spray weeds before they are an inch and half tall. Loxol at the two-pound rate may be used as a direct spray.

Dowpon can be used, but leaf-lifters are a must, since the chemical is translocated if it gets on the leaves. Loxol, a new chemical, may also fit into your post-emergence weed control program.

Delayed planting of soybeans doesn't seem to have much effect on yields until the delay extends well into June. Experimental results consistently show little reduction in yields for delayed plantings during the entire month of May.

When other perennial pasture mixtures and grasses dry up during July, August and September, sorghum-sudangrass hybrids will fill the need for additional forage. These hybrids are similar in many respects to sudangrass, but are taller, have thicker stems and under some conditions provide more forage than sudangrass. You can avoid the hazardous use of baits to control insects in your home by using a foundation spray. Spraying the foundation of the house with either chlordane or dieldrin will keep out such insects as ants, waterbugs, or oriental roaches, spiders, crickets and millipedes. Spray the entire foundation to the point of runoff, and also spray a narrow band of soil next to the foundation. One application in the spring should be adequate for the entire season. University of Illinois Circular 887, available at the farm adviser's office, gives complete directions for foundation spraying.

Instant Data on Vehicle Ownership Coming in State

"Instant identification" of motor vehicle license numbers and owners is coming soon, Secretary of State Paul Powell said this week at Springfield.

"It won't be completely instant," Powell explained, "but with the proposed installation of a new computer in the office, no state police district headquarters, sheriff's office or municipal police station with proper equipment will be more than four seconds away from identification of a questioned motor vehicle license number or owner, and no police officer in the field having radio contact with his headquarters will be more than two minutes away from identification of a motor vehicle he has under surveillance."

Installation of the new computer is the first step in a planned seven-year program to systematize mechanize and automate handling of statistical information and into-office procedures in all of the divisions of the secretary of state's office. The computer is now on order, and delivery is expected in 1968.

Funds are available now to continue the present electronic data processing program in the Drivers License Division, but installation of the new system for the Automobile Division, Drivers License Division, Corporation Division, Securities Division, Illinois State Library, Accounting Budget Division and other areas will depend upon future action by the General Assembly, Powell said.

Speed is Important

Rapid identification of motor vehicle license numbers is particularly important to law enforcement agencies at all levels of government, because in a large percentage of crimes, use of a motor vehicle is involved. This is true also, he said, in cases of hit-and-run collisions, observed traffic law violations where the violator is not immediately apprehended or even in the case of parking violations when the municipality needs the identity of the car owner to collect the fine.

Steadily increasing motor vehicle registrations—up more than 210,000 last year alone—has made the present system of supplying law enforcement agencies with this information outmoded and inadequate. With registrations approaching the 5,000,000 mark, the use of electronic equipment must be adopted if the job is to be done properly, he said.

The system will include statistical information on the state's 5,000,000 licensed drivers. While the cost of the proposed system may seem substantial—the computer now on order will be rented at a rate of $125,000 to $150,000 a month and the ultimate cost of the seven-year program is estimated at $3,500,000—it will be offset by eliminating the need for many additional employees and by the fact that revenue collected by the secretary of state's office is increasing at the rate of $7,000,000 a year.

The headquarters of law enforcement agencies throughout the state may, by renting and installing machines resembling typewriters, be connected directly, over telephone company lines, to the computer.

When the identification of a certain license number is desired, an operator will type the number on the machine's keyboard, the electrical impulses will go directly to the computer in Springfield, the computer will extract the information from the files, and will return it directly to the agency making the inquiry. The elapsed time: Four seconds.

Future benefits of the seven-year program include establishment of a vast information pool for law enforcement officials and other state agencies needing data from the Secretary of State's office; elimination of the "wheel chop," the printed list of license numbers and owners, at a saving of $420,000 a year; an increased recovery rate for stolen cars; improved police safety by providing officers with the identification of a vehicle before they stop it on the highway; faster evaluation of statistical material; improved license plate inventory control and elimination of many of the time-consuming procedures now encountered in the reassignment of license numbers to license holders, Secretary Powell said.

GC Park District's Summer Program Ready to Roll—Registration June 6 and 7

Hundreds of Granite City youngsters are expected to register Monday and Tuesday, June 6 and 7, for the Granite City park district's annual eight-week "summer recreational program," slated to start June 8.

Varied activities ranging from arts and crafts to free swims and special field trips are planned for second through sixth grade pupils who sign up for the nine summer recreational centers to be located throughout the city.

Registrations will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on the two days, at the center nearest the child's home. This year, centers will also be located at Logan, Marshall, McKinley, Niedringhaus, Nameoki, Webster and Wilson grade schools, the park district community center, 223 Niedringhaus avenue, and Salvation Army center, 1421 Nineteenth street.

No charge will be made for participation in the summer program for children residing within the park district's boundaries. Harold Brown, parks director announced. He added the only exception to the no-charge rule will be for expenses incurred on special educational field trips, such as those to the St. Louis Zoo, or Grant's Farm.

$1 Insurance Fee
Brown also reminded parents that each youngster is required to pay a $1 insurance fee, which will provide up to $1000 for doctor and medical service, and $1000 for death or dismemberment for participants in any park program with exception of wrestling, gymnastics and baseball in the park district baseball leagues. Coverage under the $1 insurance plan will continue to June 1, 1967, Brown said, also protecting the child in winter park-sponsored activities.

Some of the supervised summer recreational programs, include free movies, games, picnics, free swims at the park pool, Junior Olympic games, song-fests and storytelling. Each week, special events are being planned for each playground, such as pet shows, bike rodeos, scavenger hunts and marble tournaments. Playground leagues will be formed for girls and boys softball.

Starting Wednesday, June 8, sessions will be conducted each weekday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. Qualified supervisors will be provided at all recreational centers, Brown said.

Kindergarten Classes
This summer, the park district is scheduling a new "kindergarten class" for children to young for the all-around recreational program, but more advanced than the pre-schoolers. Most of those expected to enroll in the new class will have attended kindergarten at local elementary schools within the past year, Supt. Brown said.

Boys and girls will meet on Mondays, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and Thursdays, from 1 to 3 p.m., at Niedringhaus school. Parents may register youngsters by calling the park office at TR 7-3069.

Pre-School Program
Continuing the established "pre-school program," for four and five-year olds, four classes comprising about 35 pupils per class are being arranged. Each class will meet twice weekly, with one session in the mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and one afternoon session from 1 to 3 p.m. on a different day.

Separate days for the two sessions are planned, Brown said, to enable participants to spend an hour in the morning at the park wading pool.

The pre-school group will meet at Niedringhaus school. However, he explained, most of the activities will be held in the park.

The pre-school program also lasts for eight weeks, with classes beginning the week of June 6. The only charge for the program will be ten-cents-per-day; and adults, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Boys may attend classes on Mondays and Fridays; girls, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Persons interested in receiving temple instruction will be accommodated this year with lessons to be offered at park district rental centers on ten courts made available at Granite City high school and at Wilson Park. Lessons are provided for ages 10 and up, Brown reported, but each person is required to have his own tennis racket.

Tennis instruction will begin Monday, June 6, with the following schedule arranged: Boys — Monday and Wednesday, eight and nine years, from 9 to 10:30 a.m.; ten and 11 years, from 10:30 to noon, with both age groups playing at the park courts on Benton street; 12 and 13 years, 1 to 2:30 p.m.; and 14 to 17 years, 2:30 to 4 p.m.; both age groups at high school courts.

Girls — Tuesdays and Thursdays — at the park courts, eight and nine years, from 9 to 10:30 a.m.; 10 and 11 years, 10:30 a.m. to noon; at park courts, 12 and 13 years old from 1 to 2:30 p.m.; 14 to 17 years, 2:30 to 4 p.m. Adult class will be held on park courts 3 and 4 on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Arranging the schedule in this fashion, Brown explained, the courts at Wilson Park will be available for open play every afternoon. The same courts will be lighted each evening from dusk to 10 p.m.

Free Movies
Commencing June 7 and 8, full-length feature movies will be shown at Wilson Park on Tuesdays and Wednesdays through Aug. 16 and 17.

Features will begin at dusk and include such films as "The Brass Bands," "Summer Magic," "McHale's Navy," "Safe at Home," "Treasure Island," "The Second Time Around," "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Two Little Bears," "The Moon Spinners," "Jason and the Argonauts" and "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Free Golf Lessons
Two other special instruction programs are slated to start in June, the park official said. Due to a successful winter program, free baton lessons will be given to beginners from 10 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays, and for advanced twirlers at the same hour on at 9, 10 and 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Thursdays. Classes will be held at Marilyn Champion's School of Baton, Niedringhaus avenue and Iowa street, starting June 7.

On Monday, June 13, golf lessons will be conducted in Wilson Park near Fehling road and State street, instructed by Harry Lane, GCPS varsity golf coach. All classes will be held between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m., with junior and senior high age students and adults eligible to participate.

200 Honor Maxvill as Inspiration to Youth

Granite City high school's cafeteria was a humid but enjoyable scene for a testimonial dinner Monday night honoring Dal Maxvill for his achievements in sports and in attaining a place with the St. Louis Cardinals professional baseball team.

Approximately 200 dinner guests who took part in the event and left before a deluge of rain. They witnessed presentation of a wooden plaque given Maxvill by the Chamber of Commerce of the City of St. Louis in recognition of his role in the 1964 World's Series.

Howsam, Simons Here
Lending a genuine diamond atmosphere to the occasion was the presence of Cardinal general manager Robert Howsam and such baseball contemporaries of Dal's as coach Joe Shute, outfielder Bob Skinner and pitchers Curt Simmons and Tracy Stallard.

A group of young players from the Dal Maxvill League of the Granite City park district program were also in attendance, with their colorful uniforms lending much to the occasion.

The program was presided over by Attorney Randall Robertson as toastmaster, and he made the plaque presentation.

Rev. Paul Sims, president of the Quad - Cities Ministerial Association, gave the invocation and benediction, Mayor Donald Partney delivered the welcome, and Lloyd "Curly" Harris, state representative, introduced the guest speaker, Michael Howlett, Illinois state auditor.

"Valuable Asset to Club"

Howsam told the gathering, "Dal is one of our 25 ball players; the nature of player limits on a professional ball club are such that this in itself speaks for the kind of men we keep on our roster."

"Dal," Howsam went on, "has demonstrated that he is a valuable asset to the club. We are proud of the contributions he has made to the Cardinals."

Maxvill, after thanking Howsam for being in attendance and expressing his gratitude for State Auditor Howlett flying back from a vacation in the West for the dinner, said, "I have so many people to thank for the tremendous help I've received during these years here in Granite City and all through my baseball career. One person really deserving of my appreciation is my wife, Diana."

"A ball player is away from home a lot. She has never complained about this. She says she just keeps busy with the household and looking after our children, but she does a lot more than this," Maxvill said.

He thanked all who attended the dinner, a fundraising event for the upcoming Dal Maxvill Day program at Busch Memorial Stadium June 19.

My Mother, the Manager

One speech was delivered from the floor of the packed cafeteria room as Dr. Leo Coleman, local dentist, told of the first time he had met the future major leaguer and was informed that Dal's mother would be the manager of young Maxvill's team. Dr. Coleman once headed the local boys' baseball program.

Auditor Howlett later referred to the efforts of Mrs. Maxvill, pointing out the youth fitness in this country needs such parental encouragement to overcome the apathy toward competitive sports that exists among young people. Howlett, beginning his speech with a series of humorous anecdotes, waxed seriously quickly as he said, "There was mention earlier of how Dal's mother volunteered to be the manager of his baseball team when he first started playing."

Sports Vs. Softness

"We used to mow our lawns with a hand mower, and now we use a power mower," said Howlett. "Some of us even ride behind the mower. We've become too soft. We need to inspire our youth into more active participation in sports. We need more mothers like Mrs. Maxvill."

"It's time for America to de-emphasize imported heroes with long hair," he said. "It's wonderful to see young people here with baseball bats and photographs for Dal to autograph. Clean-living athletes are good models for boys."

"When I was a lad, all my friends wanted to grow up to be like Gene Tunney or Red Grange or Babe Ruth. Now we find some adolescents who let their hair grow long, like beatniks. They seem to think physical exercise is for the birds."

Intellect and Muscle
"I don't mean that boys shouldn't try to develop their intellects as well as their muscles. Dal Maxvill, you will notice, has a degree in electrical engineering from Washington University."

"Beasties seem to draw a lot of attention to themselves, but they are still a tiny minority in our society. The real heroes we should all admire are the young men fighting for us in Vietnam. One who died for his country, only 11 days ago was Lt. John Bruce Cape of Glen Ellyn, who was offensive center on the 1964 University of Illinois Rose Bowl team."

"He was preparing to serve all the time he was studying in school. He joined the Marine Band and also was a member of the university in his freshman year. After four years of football and studies, he joined the Corps as an officer."

One-Hitter by Stitch Helps Warriors Blank Quincy 7-0 in Sectional Meet

Alert defensive work behind the outstanding one-hit hurling of Tom Stich, and a Quincy pitcher named Bush who simply ran out of gas—these were the factors in Monday's 7-0 Warrior win as the Staunton regional tournament opened.

Bush, 6-0 before the Monday contest and famed for his strike-outs, began strongly by fanning the side in the first inning. In three and one-third innings, he had struck out eight.

Even Denny Henson's leadoff double in the second failed to rattle the Blue Devils' senior. He struck out Charlie Collins and Bill Cox before Stich singled to score Henson.

Another Big Fourth
But the end for Bush came in the fourth when the Warriors sent 10 men to the plate. The knock of bunting runs in the fourth inning was reminiscent of the Warriors' non-tourney game against Belleville last week.

The big frame began with Fred Hoffman drawing a walk and being neatly picked off first by Stich. He was invincible striking out 11 and walking but two. No Quincy runners reached second base. Bill Buckner was the only Blue Devil hitter to solve Stich, slugging in the second.

Bush, Henson singled and Collins doubled, with runners on second and third, Cox lined a screamer between Bush's legs and two runs were in.

Stich walked. Cox, who had advanced to second while the two runs crossed the plate, was on third after stealing. Danny Ship struck out, but Harold Vick doubled to score Cox and Stich.

Blue Devil's coach Zeke Zbornik yanked his timing mound star, bringing in Reth Stollberg, who promptly walked Larry Ripka.

With Greg Patton reaching first on an error to load the bases, Federa called for a delayed steal with Hoffman at the plate. While Patton was involved in the sacrificial rundown, two more runs scored, with Patton slipping into second base. Hoffman popped up, but six runs were home.

Revival of Interest in Regular Use of Venice Riverfront Being Sought

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 34 Thurs., May 26, 1966

Excursion From Venice, Picnic Night of June 18

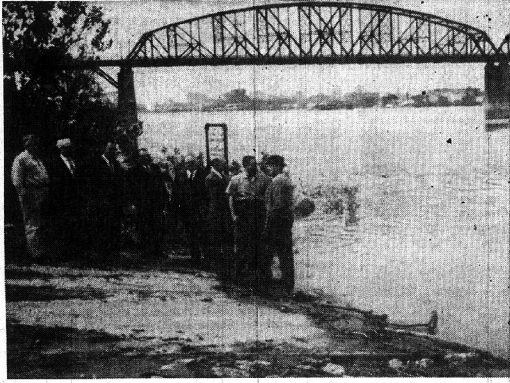

An effort is currently being launched to revive interest in and use of the Venice riverfront, where the Illinois Conservation Department will spend $45,000 to improve boat ramp and parking facilities.

The city this month signed a long-term lease with Union Electric Co. on use of the waterfront north of the McKinley Bridge. Under sponsorship of the Venice Lions club, the "Huck Finn" excursion boat will take about 300 Quad-Cityans on a moonlight cruise from Venice on Saturday evening, June 18.

Leaving the Venice landing at 7 p.m., the vessel will travel 12 miles downstream. A narrator will explain points of interest, including the Gateway Arch.

During the 12-mile return trip, music will be provided for listening or dancing. Snack bars will be operated on the boat. Callopie records may be played to revive memories of steamers that once frequented the Mississippi at Venice.

Free Barbecue
Upon docking here at 9:30 p.m., the voyagers will enjoy a free riverfront picnic near the Venice police department clubhouse. All profits from the boat trip—ticket sales, limited to about 200 at the Milner Manu- be used by the Lions to provide about 100 for representatives of new Venice.

Close Link With River Throughout Local History

Venice, named after the canal city, always has had a close link with the "Father of Waters," the Mississippi River. The association dates all the way from 1815, when John Anthony began a rental service of flat-bottomed skiffs for persons wishing to row across to the Missouri side, to 1966, when the city spins and operates a bridge carrying people across the river in a somewhat more convenient fashion.

Since its earliest records, Venice has been noted as a crossing point on the Mississippi. Anthony's initial ferry service eventually proved unequal to the demand and, in 1836, Matthew Kerr began operating a ferry boat, the "Brooklyn," powered by horses on a treadmill. Kerr Island is named after the ferry owner, a St. Louis merchant.

Later, traffic to and from Missouri was carried by a steamboat called "Little Jim." A young Army engineer, Lt. Robert E. Lee, in 1842 directed the building of a dike extending the old "national way," a 100-foot-wide wagon route from the east coast, westward from the mainland to Kerr Island (then separated by water but now a levee-protected part of Venice). It was the same Lee who subsequently led the Confederate armies in the Civil War.

The bridge was carried off in 1844 by the flooding Mississippi. It was rebuilt, but the project was abandoned after another flood destroyed the second bridge in 1851.

Five Major Floods
These were among a series of five serious floods that plagued Venice until the early years of the 20th century.

A levee was built after the second flood, but in 1853 five feet of water swept through the streets when the river surged over the levee walls. The floods ended when higher and stronger levees were built following the 1892 and 1903 floods. The Merchants' Bridge was erected and, in 1910, the McKinley Bridge was completed. The latter has been municipal property since Nov. 21, 1958. But interest in boats and in the river did not end.

Many present Venice residents can recall when St. Mark's Catholic Church sponsored annual boat excursions on the steamer St. Louis was floated to Venice. Later boat excursions also utilized the Venice landing for a time.

BOUND FOR VENICE is the "Huck Finn" excursion vessel which will dock here June 18 for a moonlight excursion preceding a riverfront picnic.

Alton Lovejoy Monument Draws Attention

Travelers may go so fast they often miss things at the side of the road. But the Lovejoy monument in the city cemetery at Alton is so tall and outstanding it commands attention from afar. It is the last resting place of Elijah P. Lovejoy, first American to give his life for the "freedom of the press."

Elijah Parish Lovejoy, eldest son of a Presbyterian minister, was born at Alton, Maine, on Nov. 8, 1802. He was a precocious youngster, and could read the Bible fluently when but four years of age. After college, young Lovejoy taught school in Vermont, then felt the call of the frontier and emigrated to Missouri. At St. Louis he taught school in the day time, contributed to the city newspapers in his spare moments. Later he served as editor of the St. Louis Observer, organ of the Presbyterian Church.

Regins: Crusade
His new work gave him a voice; he started a crusade against drunkenness and intemperance of any nature. He considered slavery an evil, was bitterly against it, yet was not classed as an abolitionist.

He made enemies, and as time passed, his vitriolic pen crusaded bitterly against the slave movement. At last he was advised to move—for his own safety.

Finally he took the advice of friends, moved his press across the Mississippi to Alton. The day was Sunday, July 24, 1838. Because of the Sabbath, Lovejoy let his printing equipment remain on the wharf. His enemies took advantage of the incident, dumped the press into the river.

Lovejoy promptly purchased a second press; it was wrecked by a mob, who warned him of his life.

4 Presses Destroyed
Undaunted, Lovejoy bought a third press—and it met the same fate. Before the fourth press arrived, Lovejoy appeared at a meeting of his enemies and vigorously defended what he called the freedom of the press.

Five days later, the new press was stored in the riverside warehouse of Godfrey, Gilman & Co. As rumblings of mob vengeance spread through the city, a company of militia went to the warehouse, presumably to guard the presser. Lovejoy was among the guards.

The mob gathered, attempted to burn the building. Gunfire started and one of the mob killed. As a second attempt was made to burn the building, Lovejoy came outside, to beat out the flames. He was fired upon and killed.

Thus, Lovejoy became the first martyr in the United States to the cause of a free press. He was buried on the bluff the following day, his 35th birthday.

Later, when a new road was built, it was found that Lovejoy's grave was in its path. The same Negro who dug his first grave was commissioned to dig a new one in the city cemetery. Lovejoy's death, perhaps more than any other single event, gave impetus to the abolitionist movement. Were he alive today, no doubt he would be a bit amazed at his fame as the first martyr to a free press.

The monument is another exciting place to visit while touring through Illinois Expedition Land.

The Pay-Off
The testimony of a good conscience is worth more than scores of character witnesses.

ROMANTIC OLD COVERED BRIDGE on Route 150 near Chester over Mary's River dates back to 1884 and is still a mecca for romanticists.

Covered Bridge Near Chester Still Attracts Romanticists

The first stop when touring the historic and scenic joys of Randolph county ought to be the old covered bridge, three miles east of Chester on Route 150. It will put visitors in a romantic mood, according to the state division of tourism.

The bridge was built in 1884 to span lazy little Mary's creek and when wagon travelers stopped under it, it was for shelter from the rain and snow. But when grandpa took grandma for Sunday afternoon buggy rides, the intimacy of its boarded sides made it a most pleasurable route.

Young men of the covered bridge era used to classify their dates as "the one most likely to get kissed" while riding through a covered bridge and lovers of today still seem to deem it a loving spot. Hundreds have carved their entwined initials into its old beams and joists and many have added tales.

Carvings Tell Tale

The marks left by Conley Parker and Bob Wilson seem to tell a complete love story. In their first visit they had apparently carved only their names. Then they returned, on Dec. 18, 1964, obviously to make a revision. A line has been carved through Conley's last name, and Wilson inserted above.

Historic excitement has filled the vales around Ft. Kaskaskia, Fort Chartres and Kaskaskia Island, since before Illinois was born.

The French first settled this area in 1720 and King Louis XV sent over a special cast, "Bell of the West," to ring out love to the French acquisition. The British took it away from them first and then in 1778, George Rogers Clark and his band of "Long Knives," wrested it from all concerned.

Bell Enshrined

Clark's boys rang the bell in that vigorous victory celebration that they cracked it. To day, it hangs enshrined in a little brick building on the same spot, eleven years older than its sister. Bell sister in Delmaria but in the same non-ringing condition.

The village of Kaskaskia is the capitol of the Illinois Territory and reigned as first city of the new State from 1818 to 1831. But the members of the General Assembly apparently wanted things a little harder so they moved their deliberations to Vandalia and the decline of the gallant, pioneer settlement began.

It became little more than a crossroads and then in 1848 the mighty Mississippi spilled over it and washed away the last remnants of the spot where Illinois began.

River Course Changed

Today, a few farmers live and work the ground which became a virtual island when the river changed its course, and it is still controversial. A friendly argument is right now being worked out between Illinois and Missouri as to whom the river made ground really belongs.

The remains of the early settlers are, however, safe and dry. Their graves were moved to the cedar-studded hillside of Fort Kaskaskia State Park and their old headstones right along with them.

The cemetery has been named, "Garrison Hill," and a marker tells their noble story. "Those who sleep here were first buried at Kaskaskia? They were the early pioneers of the great Mississippi Valley... and they planted free institutions in a wilderness that was to become a great commonwealth."

At the foot of Fort Kaskaskia, a winding, huckleberry lane leads to the gracious old river at home, that was the resting place of "Enjoy Illinois."

dence of Pierre Menard, Illinois' first lieutenant governor. Less than a mile away, Elias Kent Kane, first secretary of state, lies in a lonely grave.

Old Fort Chartres

Elsewhere, in picturesque Randolph county, are the fascinating brick structures of old Fort Chartres (near Prairie du Rocher). The Charter Oak School, one of the three octagonal one-room schools in all the nation (near Sparta); the old ferry still operating from Modoc; enormous coal mining operations where you can see the giant shovels dipping into the earth right from the highway (near Percy) and the unique elevator-loading coal docks at Chester.

The native friendliness of this area's early settlers seems anxious to help tourists find their way. For advance information write to the Chester Chamber of Commerce at Chester or to Box 51 leads to the gracious old river at home, that was the resting place of "Enjoy Illinois."

Heart Association Elects, Hears Reports at Meeting

Dr. William C. Hayes, Alton internist, was re-elected Monday night to his third successive term as president of the Madison County Heart Association.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting held in Granite City are Frank Hedger, supervisor of the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, vice-president; Mrs. Bertha Fahrig, counselor for the Illinois State Employment Service, secretary; and Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, county superintendent of schools, treasurer.

Leroy Krost reported that contributions in this year's fund campaign has exceeded $20,000 and still additional funds, particularly in memorials, are expected before the close of the association's fiscal year on June 30. He said virtually every community in the county accounted for more funds this year than last, with the largest increase over the previous year reported in the Quad-City area.

In a report on association activities, George Brooks said approximately 11,000 educational pamphlets were distributed to residents of the county; 1630 copies of professional education material were sent to physicians; 56 talks and films were presented to about 3000 persons, and two cash scholarships were awarded to high school juniors in Madison county to attend the University of Illinois during the summer session.

Brooks told the meeting that this service area of the rheumatic fever prevention program, which formerly showed more cases than any other area in the state, is the only one showing a decline since 1963. He suggested this could be due to the Heart Association's throat cultural programs in some schools.

He said that school districts that have had the program are seeking expansion of the service to include more children next year. Other services included 16 children admitted to the diagnostic service and eleven referrals to other agencies for service.

Harold Thomas, chairman of the membership committee, reported that 10 new members have joined the association. They include Dr. Anthony D. Intire of Granite City.

Draft Deferment Test Reports Up to Student

Southern Illinois University, like many other colleges and universities across the nation, supplies information to local draft boards only at the request of individual students, a school official said today.

SIU Registrar Robert A. McGrath said addition of class rank or test scores to previously established standards for draft deferment has brought considerable change in the process for reporting information on undergraduate students.

"It would stress that this information is being furnished to the local boards at the request of the students," McGrath said. "The registrar's office is a reporting agency and does not know what the result will be if students elect not to have certain information sent."

"It is suggested, however, that a student think through very carefully what the effect might be on his student deferment when he chooses not to have information supplied."

He said his office was distributing a memorandum to students outlining the procedures followed in regards to reporting to local draft boards.

GCCHS Student Council 'Adopts' Greek Girl

The Student Council at Granite City high school has "adopted" a needy Greek girl.

She is Matseani Tookashidou, seven, a 55-pounder who is three feet, five inches tall. She lives with her parents, a sister, Gary-falla, and her paternal grandmother and is in the first year of primary school. Her favorite subjects are reading and arithmetic.

Her father is unable to work as he developed tuberculosis in 1958 and has yet to regain his strength since returning from a sanatorium.

The girl's mother cultivates 2½ acres of tobacco, and with money derived from its sale, coupled with a small agriculture pension the grandmother receives, the total monthly income to support five persons is $31.

The family lives in an old hut with two rooms, and a hall with electricity and sanitary facilities, but with no running water. The council will help provide for the needs of the girl.

BUSINESS EDUCATION DAY at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus recently provided for Elmer Wortham and Nelda Lancaster of Granite City high school who received certificates of accomplishment.

Jr. Achievement Center Ends Successful Season

The curtain falls again on Junior Achievement activities at the Granite City center, and a review was made by Eugene Rekowski, center manager who called it one of the best years the center has ever had.

"Granite City started out with quite an honor as early as February when it had one of its achievers, Sharon Koch, named Mississippi Valley Junior Achievement queen," he said.

The local center led all others in the region in average sales per company for the entire year.

Each achiever firm meeting Tuesday nights, sponsored by American Steel Foundries and Dow Chemical Co., reached the $1000 mark in sales and topped the average sales from the entire region. Rekowski noted.

"Another first for the center is that of the 16 producing and selling companies (excluding the bank), six were $1000 companies."

First place in the food category was awarded to Amco, sponsored by American Steel, which produced and sold fudge.

First place in the aluminum category was presented to Dow-Grill-Matics, sponsored by Dow Chemical, for its aluminum grille.

The company judged best in the center by independent judges was Safco, sponsored by Granite City Steel, with its trouble lights.

Individual Honors
William Rekowski, president of Kamico, was honored with a $200 Dale Carnegie scholarship. Robert Keel, safety director for Mag-A-Rack, was named safety director of the year for the region.

Young Teachers Seek Changes in Positions

It takes only 10 years for a male teacher—a shorter time for a woman teacher—to become settled in a school system and stop looking for a new position.

At least that's the trend indicated in a survey of 570 experienced teachers seeking a change of position whose applications were in the active files of the Southern Illinois University Professional Service on May 1 this year.

Of the 160 men teachers looking for new positions, 132 were in the 22-32 age bracket. For those over 32, the number seeking a change dropped to one, two or three at each age level, and only 1 applicant age 50 or over was listed.

A similar trend is observed among the 70 experienced elementary teachers seeking job changes.

Among the experienced high school teachers listed on May 1, the greatest number of applicants were those offering major subjects as follows: men's physical education, 37; English, 30; business education, 24; music, 18; home economics, 16; guidance, 15; mathematics, 15.

Both high school and elementary teachers preferred two to one to remain in Illinois and at least a third of the high school teachers and half of the elementary teachers preferred the southern part of the state.

AN ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAPH is demonstrated here in a process of diagnosis, recording brain activity on a chart similar to the graphs of an electrocardiograph in heart examinations. The Granite City Rotary Club will purchase the equipment this year at a cost of $8000, to be placed in use at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

With Horse Show Proceeds

Rotary to Buy Machine For Brain Examinations

The Granite City Rotary Club will contribute all of the proceeds of its annual horse show to the purchase of an Electroencephalograph machine to be used at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Purchase of the machine is a project that was initiated early this year as the largest undertaking of its kind, although the club has presented over $20,000 in gifts to the community.

The machine is an instrument that records activity of the brain on a graph similar to that produced by the electrocardiograph machine which records heart functions.

County Board Team Favors Law to Regulate Landfill; Study Plan for Incinerators

Legislation to regulate landfill operations in rural areas of Madison county, along with construction and operation of a county-owned incinerator and landfill, will be forwarded among recommendations to be made to the county board by its new Garbage, Refuse and Sanitation committee. Lydie Donham, Wood River supervisor, told the Press-Record this week.

While no final course of action has yet been determined by the committee, Donham said its members have "definitely decided" the same action must be taken "to establish standards to be met by landfill operators in their daily disposition of trash, refuse and garbage in many different parts of the county."

"If we don't do something soon, these places can spread out over large sections of land with trash and garbage openly exposed," Donham said.

Donham's comment followed an all-day inspection tour Monday of landfill operations in all sections of the county by members of the committee and Jack Clifford, director of the Madison county zoning and building department.

In addition to Donham, the committee, appointed several weeks ago by Board Chairman Harold Landolt, includes Art Braundinger of New Douglas, Carl Buehler of Granite City, J. J. Granich of Highland and Ray Iberg of Marine.

The group visited the Edwardsville landfill which is located in the county, the Collinsville landfill, which is located in the county, as well as the Midway dumping ground southeast of the Quad-Cities which has been involved in litigation over open burning operations. The Midway dump is located within St. Clair county, but disposed of through incinerators.

The Collinsville dump has been somewhat, because there is an absolute need for more rigid control of dumping and disposal of waste material.

Donham made no mention of specific sites, but he said that "some of the places we saw are flagrant violators. We saw enough to convince us that something must be done. We have taken no official action, but there is no question that we will recommend passage of an ordinance by the county board. This undoubtedly will be modeled after the state ordinance."

He said the committee has held only two meetings, but that others will be scheduled to more thoroughly discuss the situation and determine how the situation can best be met.

"I believe," Donham added, "that construction of one, two or more incinerators on county-owned land, with adjacent land fill operations, will be the best solution. Eighty percent of the trash, garbage and refuse can be disposed of through incinerators, leaving the other 20% to be covered in a landfill."

"We have to face the problem, however, because there is an absolute need for more rigid control of dumping and disposal of waste material."

Committee OK Expected for Ill. Commission Bid

Congressman Melvin Price (D), East St. Louis, said this week the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs committee is expected to consider and approve his bill on Friday providing for Illinois representation on the Lewis and Clark Trail Commission.

Besides having Illinois membership on the commission, his bill directs the commission to give recognition to that fact that the Lewis and Clark Expedition's headquarters and training camp, during the winter of 1803, were located near Wood River.

The measure, H.R. 6515, cleared the House last session and Price indicated he did not expect any trouble in the Senate.
